Search ends for new office

Market St. building bought by Council

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald City Editor

The City of Washington C.H. has purchased a new home for its administrative offices.

Washington C.H. City Council approved the purchase of the Kirk's Auto Parts building at 215 E. Market St. during Wednesday night's meeting by a 6 to 1 vote. The purchase price of the building is reportedly $50,000.

Council member James Ward, chairman of the site search committee, met with the owner of the building, Bud Brownell, Thursday morning and necessary papers for the building's purchase were to be signed later today.

City Council had enlisted the services of a Columbus architectural firm to study various buildings in the city and make recommendation on which site would be most feasible. Ward submitted the architect's report to Council Wednesday night and urged members to make an immediate decision on whether or not to purchase the 6,800 square foot building located less than a block from the present city administration offices.

"We have got to move fast," Ward told City Council. "The building (Kirk's Auto Parts) will not last long."

Ward added that he felt the purchase of the building would be the best thing for the city at this time.

Ward noted that a number of people have been interested in buying the building and the owner had been very courteous in waiting for Council's decision.

The lone vote against the purchase was cast by Council member John Morris, who felt the renovation of the building would cost more than a new structure erected on city-owned ground at the end of N. Fayette Street.

Ward pointed out that renovation of the Market Street building could be conducted in stages as office space is needed. And, in the meantime, the city would have a roof over its head.

The present city office building, which has no space for City Council or other public meetings, is located on 208 N. Fayette St., and the lease will expire in October. The building housing the city offices is owned by Richard R. Willis.

The location of the newly purchased building is also considered a plus. It is located on the same block as the city's other facilities and instant communication between the police and fire departments would remain.

The architect's report estimated that renovation of the Market Street building would be in excess of $170,000. Ward stated that he felt the estimate was a bit high, and renovation costs could be reduced by employing local firms and renovating at the city's convenience.

The architect's report did point out that parking would be a problem and recommended the purchasing of the parking lot on the east side of the building. Ward said that Kirk's Auto Parts presently leases 10 parking spaces and mentioned the use of the alley next to the building for parking if more spaces are needed.

City Council had mentioned the sale of city property to finance the purchase and renovation of the building. Ward suggested the sale of all or part of 16 acres of land located on Robinson Road and the sale of nearly two acres of land and three buildings located at the end of N. Fayette Street. The appraisal value of the land on N. Fayette Street alone is over half the purchase price of the new building.

Kirk's Auto Parts will vacate the building this summer and move to the former R.C. Belt, Inc. building at 851 Columbus Ave.

The architect's report reviewed four other sites for Council members to consider including the buildings located on the N. Fayette Street property. The other three sites were the Terrace Lounge restaurant on S. Main Street, the former Jackson Glove Manufacturing Co. building on E. Temple Street, and the building which houses the Goody Shoppe restaurant on N. Main Street.

The report estimated that the Terrace Lounge site would cost $55,000 more to renovate than the Kirk's Auto Parts building. The Jackson Glove Co. building, although considered the best constructed building studied, would cost more than three-quarters of a million dollars to renovate. The Goody Shoppe building was also estimated to cost more for renovation than the Kirk building.

The front portion of the Kirk building is believed to be 75-years-old; the rear of the building was built 35 years ago. Renovation suggested by the architect consisted of a new exterior finish to be more in keeping with a "city hall look," new heating and air conditioning systems, new plumbing, and new interior finishes.

Coffee Break . . .

IN OBSERVANCE of Senior Citizens Week in Fayette County, a representative from the Golden Buckeye Card program will be on the Courthouse lawn from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Friday, May 20 to register area residents 65 years of age and older for the program.

Any senior citizen may apply for the free Golden Buckeye cards, but applicants should provide some form of proof of age such as a driver's license, birth certificate or some other legal document.

The Golden Buckeye Card, issued by the Ohio Commission on Aging, enables Ohioans 65 and over the opportunity to buy products and services at discounts from participating merchants. The card is honored statewide.

WERE YOU one of the participants in the Epsilon Sigma Alpha benefit bike ride?

If so, you have eight days to turn in money pledged for your efforts.

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority has started to collect money from the fifth annual bike ride and a May 20 deadline has been established. The money can be taken to any office of the Fayette County Bank or given to Mrs. Don Gibbs, 803 Yeoman St.

REGISTRATION for summer sessions is now in progress at Southern State College.

Admissions officers and advisors are available to counsel graduating seniors from local high schools who wish to get a head start on college. Classes are being offered both during the day and in the evening to accommodate students who work.

For more information, call the north campus in Wilmington (382-6646) or the south campus in Fincastle (695-0700) and ask to speak with the admissions officer.

NEW CITY HALL — The Washington C.H. City Council approved the purchasing of a building at 215 E. Market St., which presently houses the Kirk's Auto Parts store. Council plans to renovate the building for city administrative offices. The purchase price was set at $50,000. The present city offices are housed in a building at 208 N. Fayette Street, but the structure is considered too small for future expansion. The city leases that building for $6,000 a year.

Slurry seal to be used

City street repair program scheduled

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald City Editor

City streets have been plagued with chuckholes and crumbling pavement since this past winter's big freeze, and Washington C. H. City Council took steps Wednesday night to repair Mother Nature's damage.

Council members authorized City Manager George H. Shapter to proceed with bidding for a "slurry seal" repair program.

Council member Joseph O'Brien recommended the slurry seal, a mixture of sand, cement, asphalt, and water, for street repair. O'Brien and William Duncan, city street department superintendent, recently inspected streets in Xenia, which has been using slurry seal for several years.

"It's the best thing I think we can possibly get except for a straight blacktop job," O'Brien told fellow Council members in making the recommendation.

O'Brien said the slurry mixture does not present the problems that exist with tar surfacing. The slurry will dry in approximately three hours and it will not stick to car tires or shoes as is the case with tar.

A preliminary pavement study of the city street system has been taken, and was submitted to C.F. Bird of the city's consulting engineering firm for the proposed sewer project. Bird received a copy of the study to determine if there was any conflict with street repair and sewer construction.

Streets, which will have to be excavated when new sewer lines are installed, will not be part of the slurry seal program. However, large potholes will be filled on such streets.

After studying the report, Bird listed the approximate same pavement footage that was outlined in the original study.

"With the total number of square feet that should be done in just the areas currently inspected, we have no problem of doing a full slurry program this summer," Shapter said.

The slurry seal program will cover 30,000 to 32,000 square yards of pavement at an estimated cost of $15,000.

Shapter pointed out that the slurry seal application would be for sealing streets to protect against chuckholes; it is not a filler. Holes will have to be patched before the seal is applied.

Shapter noted that city street crews began patching operations with a hot mix earlier this week.

Sidewalk repair was also mentioned at Wednesday night's City Council meeting. Shapter advised property owners on Clinton Avenue to wait until next spring for repairs.

Shapter explained that the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. plans to place an underground conduit under the sidewalks on Clinton Avenue in July or August of this year. Ohio Bell had suggested that

Officials decline comment

Veteran police officer suspended from duties

A 12-year veteran of the Washington C.H. police Department is serving a 28-day suspension for disciplinary reasons.

Police Sgt. Luther Anderson Jr., was reportedly suspended from his duties last Friday. He will also be demoted from sergeant to patrolman if an appeal filed Wednesday with the Civil Service Commission is rejected.

Neither Sgt. Anderson nor Washington C.H. Police Chief Rodman Scott would comment on the reason for the suspension.

City Manager George H. Shapter issued the suspension after reviewing personnel records and recommendations from Scott. Shapter said the suspension was a personnel matter and any other comment on the suspension would be inappropriate at this time.

Anderson secured John Connors, a Columbus attorney, to file an appeal with the Civil Service Commission. The commission will have 30 days to study the suspension and hold a hearing.

Burdette Johnson, a member of the city's Civil Service Commission, confirmed that an appeal has been filed. The other two members of the commission are chairman William G. Ward and William B. Johnson.

If the commission rejects Anderson's appeal, he has the right to appeal the suspension through the court system beginning with the Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Anderson joined the city police force in 1965 and was promoted to sergeant four years later. His suspension and demotion leaves the police department with three sergeants.

Would lift oil, gas price controls

GOP bares own energy plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are ready to counter President Carter's energy program with a major proposal of their own that seeks to increase U.S. energy production by lifting price controls from oil and natural gas.

The GOP energy "alternative," expected to be backed today by the Senate's Republican membership, would allow energy companies to reap larger profits on domestic energy production.

But according to a draft of the proposal, these firms would be subject to a "windfall profits tax" unless they reinvested the added profits into finding and developing new oil and gas reserves.

A copy of the draft was obtained by The Associated Press.

GOP leaders stress that the draft is not final and may be subject to last-minute changes. But Republican congressional sources say it is unlikely that the main elements of the proposal will be modified.

While the President's proposal aims to reduce U.S. consumption by taxing excessive use of scarce fuels, the proposed GOP plan would let energy prices rise without taxation in an effort to spur production.

"Unwise government intervention in the marketplace has been the major cause of supply shortages, unrealistic prices, excessive consumption and increased dependence on foreign sources," the draft asserts.

But the proposed GOP plan also advocates energy conservation incentives similar to those in the administration plan, including tax breaks for those who install home insulation or solar energy units.

And it calls for continued development of the controversial breeder reactor program at Clinch River, Tenn., which the administration has proposed canceling. But it urges that a decision be delayed on whether technologies that use plutonium — such as the breeder reactor — should be used commercially.

The proposed plan also recommends that utilities wishing to convert from oil or gas to coal be given a five-year exemption from meeting federal clean air standards.

GOP leaders contend that the administration's energy plan, which would continue price controls on both gas and oil, fails to offer industry

Ohio schools seek new ruling on gas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio schools won a new hearing before the Public Utilities Commission on Wednesday when they complained about the commission's new natural gas curtailment category designed especially for schools.

Under the old plan the schools were classified as large commercial users and were subject to severe service curtailments, with many systems completely shutting down for several weeks this winter when their natural gas allotments were exhausted or low.

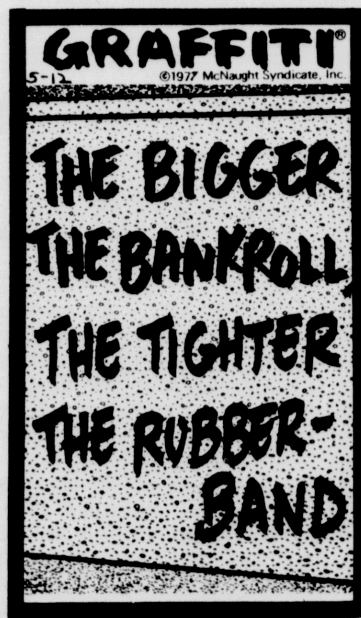

Under the new category for curtailments, schools could choose the optional system of being assured they would have a 30 per cent curtailment limit unless it became impossible to serve human needs customers without cutting the schools back further.

The schools, in the rehearing request brought by Supt. of Public Instruction Franklin Walter, the Ohio Board of Education, and several districts, had sought to be guaranteed the same service as homes and hospitals. That was rejected.

But the commission agreed with the schools' contention that the current program discourages districts from switching to alternate fuels.

Under existing curtailment plans many districts are granted a blanket amount of gas for the whole system.

That was removed under the new PUCO plan and replaced by a building-by-building natural gas allocation. It forbids the systems from pooling the supply.

For continuing contributions to community

Mrs. Stoughton enters hall of fame

Mrs. Pearl Stoughton of Washington C.H. was inducted as Fayette County's representative in the Central Ohio Citizens Hall of Fame Wednesday in Columbus.

The second annual awards banquet, honoring senior citizens for their continuing contributions to their communities, was held in the Rhodes Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Eleven senior citizens from eight central Ohio counties were inducted into the hall of fame.

Mrs. Stoughton, 19 Colonial Court, joins B.E. Kelley, a retired newspaperman, as the two Fayette County representatives in the hall of fame.

The 81-year-old Mrs. Stoughton was selected for the honor by the Fayette County Commission on Aging. She was nominated by the Fayette County Senior Nutrition program of which she has been a member since its inception in 1973.

Cataracts in both eyes have not prevented Mrs. Stoughton from work with senior citizens and elderly organizations. "I feel I am coming out okay," she said optimistically after operations that permitted her to resume her volunteer work. She and her husband, Harry, will celebrate their 59th wedding anniversary June 24.

Fayette County's other nominees for the hall of fame induction were Joseph E. Peters, R. Burris (Bud) Tharp, Gladys Johns, Mary Frances Snider, McKinley Kirk and Kenneth W. Craig.

The six other nominees and Mrs. Stoughton will be honored at a senior citizens recognition banquet May 18 in the Mahan Building.

Other senior citizens from the eight-county area inducted Wednesday were Laura Wilson, 81, Madison County; Ethel Jones, 77, Delaware County; Jesse E. Waugh, 74, Fairfield County; Margaret Gray, 74, Licking County; Randolph Wolfe, 72, Pickaway County; Ruth Woods, 75, Union County; and Georgia Bennett, 71, James T. Flood, 72, Mrs. Myra Middleton, 76, and Julius Sabback, 68, all of Franklin County.

The hall of fame program and banquet is sponsored by the Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging in cooperation with each of the eight county committees on aging.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Nina R. Porter

GREENFIELD — Mrs. Nina R. Porter, 97, of 347 South St., Greenfield, died at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Greenfield Manor Nursing Home.

Born in Fayette County, Mrs. Porter was the widow of George A. Porter, who died July 7, 1910. She was a member of the Greenfield First United Methodist Church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. Paul (Margaret Alice) Gessner, of Greenfield; two grandchildren, Mrs. Michael J. (Ellen) Clowes, of Huntington, N.Y., and Mrs. David W. (Ann) Pence, of Hillsboro, and four great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by two brothers.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Murray Funeral Home, Greenfield, with the Rev. Clarence Dinnen officiating. Burial will be in Cochran Cemetery, near New Martinsburg.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Friday. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests that contributions be made to the Greenfield First United Methodist Church memorial fund.

Mrs. Ethel P. Thorpe

MOUNT STERLING — Mrs. Ethel P. Thorpe, 73, wife of Dr., Maynard B. Thorpe of 109 Valley View Drive, Mount Sterling, died Wednesday morning in the Madison Elms Nursing Home, London. Mrs. Thorpe was born in Columbus.

Besides her husband, Dr. Thorpe, she is survived by a sister, Miss Ottillie Kates of Columbus; a brother, H.G. Kates of Ormond Beach, Fla.; and several nieces and nephews.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Greenlawn Cemetery, Columbus, with the Rev. Ralph Ritts officiating.

Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the Porter Funeral Home, Mount Sterling.

The family has suggested that contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

HENRY G. RUDOLF — Services for Henry G. Rudolf, 68, of Lebanon, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, with the Rev. John Byard officiating.

Mr. Rudolf, a retired electrician, died Sunday.

Mrs. Walter Stackhouse was the organist and Miss Beth Ann Soares sang one hymn. Pallbearers for the burial in Miami Valley Memorial Gardens were Harold Witt, Roy Craft, Arvel Brown, James Turner and Aaron and Ransom Johnson.

Saxbe raps ex-president

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former U.S. Senator and Attorney General William Saxbe believes that former President Richard Nixon is hurting the Republican party with his televised interviews with David Frost.

Saxbe, who served as U.S. Attorney General under Nixon, said Wednesday he did not watch the former president discuss Watergate with Frost May 4.

"I have no compassion for him (Nixon). I think he handled himself very badly. He wrecked the Republican party, perhaps irreparably. I'm hopeful there can be some recovery," Saxbe said before he spoke to delegates at the Ohio Trucking Association convention.

Saxbe told the truck owners that capitalism provides more services than socialism.

"The marketplace is a far greater computer to monitor than consumer behavior," he said.

Saxbe also said he has no plans to re-enter Ohio politics and discounted rumors he might seek the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

"I have no interest at the present time in getting involved. I don't expect to be a candidate for governor," said Saxbe, now partner in a Washington D.C. law firm. He also retains his cattle business in Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

Egad! Friday the thirteenth!

By JULES LOH

AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Tomorrow is Friday the Thirteenth. It is the only one in 1977 and, as luck would have it, it falls in May. What could be worse?

"Nothing," Shawn Robbins said, stroking her cat. "But I don't believe in superstitions. I collect them, I find them fascinating, but I'm not superstitious."

Shawn Robbins can say that. She can spit in tomorrow's eye because she is a psychic. She knows, in advance, that tomorrow holds no evil for her even though it is a Friday the Thirteenth that falls in May, the direst kind.

May 13, as spook specialists such as Shawn Robbins know, is the ancient Roman festival of Lemuria. Woe are us.

Lemuria is the dreadful night when the Lemurs, the malevolent souls of the dead, hover about. Placate them. Make them a midnight sacrifice.

"Most superstitions have their origins in religion," Shawn Robbins said. "Others trace back to practical necessities."

"Friday the Thirteenth? The 13th apostle at the Last Supper was Judas Iscariot. The next day was Friday. We all know what happened. By the way, did you notice in the da Vinci painting that Judas has knocked over the salt? Interesting."

As for a superstition rooted in necessity, here's one from Shawn Robbins's copious collection: A coach-whip snake will catch you at night and whip you to death. Tell that to your slave if he is inclined to run away.

The superstition about walking under a ladder has elements of both origins.

Some say a ladder casts the shadow of a cross. Tread on it at your peril. Others, including Shawn Robbins, say a ladder casts the shadow of a ladder and the only reason for avoiding it is to keep from getting paint-splattered.

Shawn Robbins discovered her psychic powers 23 years ago when, as a girl of eight, she foretold her grandmother's death.

A few more accurate predictions and she discovered, as she explained it, that these weren't just lucky hunches. Over the years she has worked into the major league of psychics, predicting airplane crashes, finding criminals for the New York police, serving as seer in residence for the National Enquirer.

She took time out recently — probably knew she wouldn't be busy — to share some lesser known superstitions from her collection. Take them with a grain of salt. Then toss the salt over your left shoulder. Here they are:

Carry a rabbit's foot tomorrow. Not just any rabbit's foot. Carry the left hind foot of a rabbit that has run in a graveyard.

Don't get married in May. Wait until June, the month of Juno, patroness of happy marriages. As the Scots have warned us: "From the marriages in May, all the bairns die in decay."

Stay ashore if the old moon is in the lap of the new. That is, when you can see the faint outline of the full moon in the crescent of the new.

If none of these omens are what you're looking for, go see Shawn Robbins for a private reading. It will cost $50; the psychic business is good. Shawn Robbins doesn't plan to give it up. Not in the foreseeable future.

Noon Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — Wed-

nesday's stock market was lower today, continuing Wednesday's downward trend. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks slipped 2.21 to 924.69 in the early going. Losers outnumbered gainers by a margin of more than 3-2 among New York Stock Exchange listed issues.

Analysts said the market was being held back by concern over the prospect of an increase in the prime interest lending rate. That was one key factor cited in Wednesday's trading slump.

Today's early prices included International Business Machines, off 1/2 at 252 1/4; Gulf Oil, down 3/8 to 27 1/4, and Sony Corp., off 1/8 at 9 1/8.

On Wednesday the Dow industrial average closed down 9.24 at 926.90, wiping out moderate gains of the previous day and deepening the net loss to more than 16 points over the past four trading days.

Losers outnumbered gainers by a margin of 11-7 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big Board volume was 18.98 million shares Wednesday against 21.09 million the previous day.

The NYSE's composite index lost .32 to 53.98.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .21 at 114.04.

enough incentives to find new sources of energy.

Such an incentive can only be provided by a "return to free market pricing," says the GOP draft proposal. "The plan will call for a balance between strong conservation and strong production" efforts, said Max Friedersdorf, staff director for the Senate Republican Conference.

Along with removal of price controls on oil and gas, the GOP plan would establish a windfall profits tax that "would be triggered only when producers fail to reinvest any excess revenues into expanded domestic energy exploration and development," the draft says.

The proposal calls for the immediate removal of federal price controls from all newly discovered oil, and a phasing out over an unspecified period the controls on oil from existing wells and fields.

any sidewalk repair be delayed because the placing of the conduit would necessitate replacement of the sidewalk.

Now, Ohio Bell has changed its plans, according to Shapter, and the conduit work will not be done until 1978.

"Their (Ohio Bell) suggestion is that the property owners live with the bad sidewalks until next spring and save themselves the expense of new walk installation," Shapter said.

A number of items concerning the Washington C. H. recreation program were discussed at the Council meeting.

The lone bid for the operation of the concession stand at Eymann Park was accepted by City Council. Mrs. Chester Estep, 902 Pearl St., had submitted the bid of $350. She has operated the concession stand for the past several years.

Council passed a resolution naming Earl Crosswhite, 1130 Washington Ave., to a five-year term on the City Recreation Board. Crosswhite was serving an unexpired term on the board which ended April 30.

An offer to build eight lanes of horseshoe pitching courts at Eymann Park was studied by City Council. The offer was made by George DeWeese, 1020 N. North St. Council authorized Shapter to study the proposal and turn his findings over to the recreation board.

INTOXILYZER RECEIVED

An intoxilyzer machine, which was purchased to replace the city police department's breathalyzer, has been received, Shapter reported.

Five city police officers attended a school last week concerning the operation of the new machine which will be used to determine the alcohol content of a person's blood. The rest of the city law officers will receive training in the near future.

Shapter said the machine should be in operation sometime next week.

FIREMEN AID

Council passed a resolution declaring the use of federal anti-recession funds for the support and operation of the city fire department.

A portion of the federal funds were received by the city in December. The anti-recessionary program stipulates that the funds be used to support existing services and must be allocated within six months of their receipt.

BARGAIN DAYS SET

Council member James Ward reported that the Retail Merchants Council of the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce has set July 20-23 as the preliminary dates for Old Fashioned Bargain Days.

Ward said plans for the four-day affair include an arts and crafts show and a square dance.

STOP LIGHT NEEDED

O'Brien, chairman of City Council's safety committee, reported that a traffic light will be needed at the intersection of U.S. 62 and Glenn Avenue after the Terrace Lounge Restaurant is completed this fall.

Council advised the safety committee to work with Shapter in investigating possible state funding and to report back to Council.

DISASTER SERVICES

An executive committee meeting of the Fayette County Disaster Services Agency has been set for Thursday at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Disaster Services office at 224 N. Main St. Shapter invited any interested Council member to attend the meeting.

Residents to fight any SST landings

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) — An explosion and fire at one of Saudi Arabia's largest oilfields forced the shutdown of a pipeline carrying nearly two-thirds of the desert kingdom's oil production and is threatening a large oil tank farm, the U.S. Embassy reported today.

An embassy official said "several" people have been killed and more than 30 were injured.

Officials of the Arabian American Oil Co. said the fire is still raging at the Abqaiq oilfield 35 miles southwest of Dhahran, but they believe they have it "contained," the embassy said.

"It has the potential for a major catastrophe," the embassy spokesman added. He reported the Abqaiq field, which produces more than 800,000 barrels a day, has been shut down.

The official said there is some fear that a large complex of storage tanks may ignite. He said two of the tanks have ruptured and the oil spilling from them is burning.

The embassy said Aramco sources reported the explosion occurred Wednesday at a pumping station for the pipeline, which carries some 6 million barrels of crude oil a day plus gas to the Persian Gulf port of Ras Tanura. A gas storage tank exploded, and fire spread down the pipeline, which had to be shut down.

The embassy source said the cause of the first explosion is not known and the possibility of sabotage is being investigated.

cleaner, quieter, more efficient supersonic transport."

A spokesman for the Port Authority said the ruling would be appealed as soon as Pollack signed the order making it effective. Port Authority attorney Patrick Falvey also said his agency would seek to have the ban reinstated while litigation continues, a prospect that could put off Concorde landings indefinitely.

British Airways and Air France have 10 days to draw up papers formally asking the judge for an injunction against the ban.

Following the ruling, British Airways said it would start test flights into Kennedy next month and begin commercial service by the end of September. Air France said it plans to start daily Paris-to-New York flights on June 20.

Both airlines now make commercial runs into Washington's Dulles Airport, the only other U.S. airport designated for trial runs.

A Concorde flight from London to New York would cost $693 compared with the current first class fare for a one-way journey of $574.

Man, woman sought in widow's slaying

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A man who used $100 bills to light his cigars while buying rounds of drinks at a suburban tavern is being sought as the mastermind of the multimillion-dollar robbery and murder of a reclusive grocery heiress.

Authorities say state murder charges and federal fugitive warrants have been issued for Howard Willard, 38, and a woman believed to be traveling with him, Marjorie Pollitt, 48. They are thought to be en route to Daytona Beach, Fla.

About $1.6 million was found in the possession of three persons already in custody in the case. Authorities say at least $1.4 million is still missing from the home of Marjorie Jackson, 66, who was found shot to death early Saturday.

Lt. Robert Kirkman of the Marion County Sheriff's Department said one of those already arrested told police that Willard got a floor plan of Mrs. Jackson's house from a man involved in the January theft of $817,000 from her home.

The man, whom Kirkman declined to identify, said the plan to rob the heiress developed after he met Willard at an inner-city nightclub, Kirkman said.

Willard was identified as the man lighting cigars with $100 bills, buying rounds of drinks and passing out $100 bills to friends late last week.

Mrs. Jackson's body was found by firemen responding to reports of a fire at her weed-choked, three-acre estate. She had been fatally wounded by a .22-caliber weapon, and detectives believe the fire was set to conceal the crime.

Police found more than $5 million in cash still in her house, stuffed in drawers and closets.

It's still uncertain how much money is missing, Kirkman said. Mrs. Jackson had withdrawn about $8 million from an Indianapolis bank in the past year and might have withdrawn more from other banks, he said.

Those arrested were: Manuel Lee Robinson, 29, held without bond on charges of first-degree murder, arson and burglary; John Williams, 38, charged with being an accessory after the fact, $100,000 bond; Annie Young, 22, charged with possession of stolen property, $1,000 bond.

Man dies of injuries

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Police Chief Myron Leistler said he would release no information while an investigation is completed into the death of a Northside man.

Hamilton County Coroner Dr. Frank Cleveland ruled Wednesday that the death of Paul Oder, 24, was a homicide. Oder suffered several skull fractures during an altercation with police April 24, police said.

Witnesses told the Oder family lawyer that Oder was struck by a plain clothes detective outside a Northside tavern as he watched an arrest being made. A police report said Oder was charged with assaulting an officer.

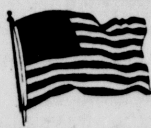

Chief Leistler said he would make no comment about the statements from the eye witnesses. There have been no arrests.

Vandal reports probed

Officers investigate tavern assault case

A 20-year-old Washington C.H. man was arrested for assaulting a bartender at the Farmers Cafe Wednesday night. Ernest Reinsmith, 503½ E. Temple St., allegedly struck George Woolever, 65, of 503 E. Temple St., in the eye and then left the tavern.

Woolever told police officers that he was tending bar at the Rose Avenue tavern and asked Reinsmith to leave. Reinsmith reportedly came behind the bar and hit Woolever with his fist.

Police officers also investigated three vandalism reports.

Randy Farmer, 18, of 411 Rawlings St., reported Wednesday that he was parked at the Washington Square Shopping Center parking lot Tuesday night when a man approached his car and told him to get out. Farmer refused and the man reportedly struck and broke the car window. No arrest has been made.

Raymond Wisecup, 69, of 710 Columbus Ave., reported that sometime late Tuesday or early Wednesday someone threw a rock through a storm glass window at his residence.

Larry L. Lewis, 23, of 1002 Willard St., reported that the windshield of his car was shattered shortly after midnight Thursday. The windshield was valued at $95 and the incident occurred while the car was parked next to his residence.

City police officers are also investigating the theft of a bicycle from a garage at the Gene Wissinger residence, 320 N. Fayette St. Wissinger reported that the 10-speed girls bike was discovered missing Wednesday afternoon by his daughter. It was valued at $80.

A dog-bite report was turned into the police department Tuesday evening. Jeannette A. Hall, 15, 1104 Gregg St., was reportedly bitten when she attempted to help Mark Beverly, 718 Brown St., catch his dog. She did not require immediate treatment.

Five other mishaps probed

County girl injured in rural bike crash

A 16-year-old Fayette County girl was injured when the bicycle she was riding collided with a minibus.

Rebecca E. Merriman, 811 Staunton-Jasper Road, was taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital emergency room for treatment of arm and leg abrasions.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported that she was riding the bicycle near her home when it collided with the minibus. The name of the minibus driver was not released. The mishap occurred at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department also reported a minor injury in a two-vehicle collision near the intersection of Palmer Road and Palmer Road and Ohio 729.

Pauline Haines, 72, of 1686 Mount Olive Road, complained of a slight neck injury after the car she was a passenger in was struck in the rear by a truck. She did not require immediate medical treatment and she told deputies that she would seek treatment from her private physician.

Mrs. Haines was a passenger in a car driven by Helen R. Yates, 69, Damascus. The Yates auto was reportedly slowing to make a left turn from Palmer Road onto Ohio 729 when it was struck in the rear by a truck driven by Max E. Davis, 46, Jamestown. Davis was cited for failure to maintain an assured clear distance.

Four minor traffic accidents were reported by area law enforcement agencies Wednesday. There were no other reported injuries.

POLICE

WEDNESDAY, 9:28 a.m. — A car driven by Catherine L. Hyer, 66, of 201 N. Hinde St., was reportedly backing from a driveway at her residence when it was struck by a car driven by Ruth H. Bartram, 58, Xenia.

The Hyer auto sustained no damage and the Bartram auto was only slightly damaged. No citations were given.

11:38 a.m. — A car driven by James R. Thompson, 18, of 2309 Rowe Ging Road, was reportedly backing from a parking space on the McDonald's Restaurant parking lot when it struck a car driven by Johnny L. Locey, 23, East Monroe.

5:35 p.m. — Cars driven by Gale A. Lucas, 17, of 721 Yeoman St., and Ralph L. Jones, 53, of 212 W. Market St., collided near the intersection of W. Market and Hinde streets. The Lucas auto reportedly pulled to the right of the Jones auto near the intersection. When the cars were nearly side-by-side the Jones auto reportedly made a right turn into a parking space. No citations were given.

SHERIFF

WEDNESDAY, 4:45 p.m. — A truck driven by Brian Mickle, 33, Bloomingburg, reportedly backed into a car driven by Roberta S. Von Bargen, 37, of 7979 Ohio 38, on Main Street in Bloomingburg. Mickle reportedly did not see the Von Bargen auto when he was backing. No citation was given.

Auto engine research scheduled

CLEVELAND (AP) — A National Aeronautics and Space Administration energy chief says NASA hopes to see introduction of gas turbine and Stirling auto engines by the mid-1980s.

G. Mervin Ault, energy programs director at NASA's Lewis Research Center, said Monday the U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration wants Lewis to provide the technical base for industry to introduce the turbines by 1984 and the Stirling by 1985.

Ford Motor Co. has been heavily involved in research on the latter, an engine that alternately heats and cools a gas in an enclosed system to push pistons.

Chrysler Corp. made and tested turbines for autos in the 1950s, and General Motors Corp. has extensive experience with turbines in trucks.

Keynoting the Cleveland Electronics Conference, Ault said the engines promise improved fuel economy and, since they burn fuel externally, can meet emission standards more readily than the internal combustion engines now in use.

But their high production costs must be cut if they are to be competitive, he added.

Ault also said a nickel-zinc battery Lewis helped develop has extended the range of a test electric car to 143 miles on a single charge, compared with 80 on a common lead acid battery. He said the new range suggested the electric car concept has promise as a driver's second car.

Showers continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thundershowers continued today in parts of Nebraska and northwestern Texas, while showers were tapering off in the Pacific and Gulf Coast states and in parts of New Mexico and Colorado.

A few locally heavy thunderstorms were reported in southeast Louisiana and southern Mississippi.

There were heavy thunderstorms Wednesday night in parts of the Florida Keys.

Elsewhere, generally clear skies were the rule. The only exception appeared to be southern Texas, where patchy ground fog was forming.

Temperatures were on the cool side over most of the nation, with readings generally in the 40s and 50s, and with 30s widespread through New England. Temperatures were in the low 70s along the Gulf Coast and in eastern Florida.

Early morning temperatures around the nation ranged from 28 in Houlton, Maine to 77 in Key West, Fla.

Schizophrenia, the term meaning "split personality," was first used in 1911. It replaced the term dementia praecox, which meant "insanity of youth."

Heyerdahl's next voyage

Thirty years after Kon-Tiki, Thor Heyerdahl will soon set sail again - this time into the Indian Ocean, in a boat fashioned of Mesopotamian reeds. Word of another voyage to test speculation about the sea travels of ancient man renews interest in a remarkable career.

The thrust of that career has been, not to prove that the ancients actually did, but to show what they might possibly have done. For decades the Norwegian explorer has been keenly interested in the seaborne migrations that may - or, of course, may not - have occurred thousands of years ago. His method, in fleshing out theories about such movements, is to build primitive vessels and then to sail them along the hypothetical routes.

His first such venture was in 1947.

Theorizing that migrants from South America might have populated the Polynesian Islands thousands of miles across the Pacific, he sailed on the balsa raft Kon-Tiki from Peru to Tahiti.

In 1969 he put another hypothesis to the test: that early Egyptians might have journeyed to South and Central America and helped originate the Axtec and Inca civilizations. In a boat of papyrus reeds named for the sun god Ra, Heyerdahl and others sailed 2,600 miles from Morocco to within 600 miles of Barbados. They had to abandon ship, but the Ra did make it to South America.

Now a third chapter of this saga is opening. It will start on the Tigris River in ancient Mesopotamia, now part of Iraq. Though there was contact between the Mesopotamians and such places as Egypt and the Indus Valley, the routes of travel are unknown. Heyerdahl has set himself the problem: Could the Mesopotamians have sailed in large vessels down the Tigris, through the Persian Gulf, and far out into the Arabian Sea and the Indian Ocean?

An attempt to show that this could have been done will be undertaken in a vessel made of tons of Mesopotamian reeds lashed together with hemp rope. Thor Heyerdahl hopes to set sail with a crew of 14 in November. When the time comes, we and many others will wish him bon voyage - and success in plying other sea routes ancient man may have followed.

THESE DAYS...By John Chamberlain

Solons must get rid of cross-purposes

Before it can write an energy bill that will stay put, Congress is going to have to rescue itself from the incredible number of cross-purposes it has already written into laws that are permissibly interpreted by the various government agencies.

Nothing is simple any more. Jimmy Carter wants coal production increased by two-thirds to one billion tons a year by 1985. Meanwhile, Congress debates a national strip mine bill that might penalize states that have good strip mine surface restoration laws in order to raise money to pay for the mistakes made by the more careless states. Nobody seems to care about costs.

In Connecticut, Northeast Utilities Co., which was told to convert to oil a few years ago for environmental reasons, is now informed that some of its plants must go back to coal. The company, which already gets half its energy from atomic power, would prefer to go ahead with its Millstone III plant near New London, a move that would enable it to dispense with oil and coal altogether. But more atomic energy plants are pretty much of a "no-no" these days despite Carter's commitment to more light water reactors.

In Pennsylvania, the Bethlehem Steel Co., taking the EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) boys at their word, started on a program for building sheds over coke oven operations at $6 million per shed. The idea was to keep pollution from hurting an environment that is nicely balanced between industry and agriculture. Then along comes OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration), telling the steel company that sheds would be unsafe. So the project was stopped in its tracks.

The steel companies, over the years, have tried manfully to keep up with the environmental laws. They have also fought to impose a strict cost control on the utilization of energy, reducing requirements by one per cent a year over the past 20 years. But, with EPA thundering in the wings, the industry now finds the cost of the building precipitators and what-not to keep its stack emissions clean demands so much capital investment that there is little left over to increase national steel capacity. The annual industry capacity figure remains at 152 million tons, which is where it stood 20 years ago. Meanwhile the biggest motor in a plant is likely to be the one that runs the precipitator, using up power that adds to the fuel bill.

Lewis W. Foy, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, says he believes the measures that are being used to make our atmosphere 95 per cent pure are thoroughly justified. But the drive to get rid of the remaining 5 per cent of pollution poses a virtually insoluble dilemma. The reason: the equipment needed to reach 100 per cent purity requires additional amounts of energy that create new pollution problems all on their own. The Environmental Protection Agency has yet to be introduced to the law of diminishing returns.

The cross-purposes that afflict the steel companies domestically extend to their overseas relations. Steel can't afford to be labelled "protectionist." As Foy told a group of Chicago executives, millions of tons of American-made steel products are exported every year. One out of five or six American workers produces goods for export. Moreover, the steel companies have a long shopping list of imported raw materials, from iron ore and manganese to oil.

But the American companies, which pay taxes and raise their own investment funds in the private capital market, are forced to compete in a world where nationalized steel companies are the rule, not the exception. Foreign governments, with commitments to full employment, keep their nationalized or government-subsidized steel plants going willy-nilly for homegrown political reasons. What they cannot sell on the domestic market at a profit they sell overseas below the market. The impolite word for it is dumping.

The Japanese pose the worst dilemma. They keep their government-financed and locally protected companies going at 90 per cent capacity, selling the excess in Western markets that do well to keep local steel companies going at 70 per cent. Something is bound to break: The West, despite "trilateralism," won't take cheap Japanese exports forever when the Japanese stay so violently protectionist regarding imports from the West.

"LET'S TAKE TWO ASPIRINS AND CALL CARTER IN THE MORNING."

Armed services told spending cuts near

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Harold Brown is telling the armed services they may have to trim spending plans by $15 billion to $30 billion over a five-year period.

Brown delivered the message as he laid down guidelines for spending for fiscal 1979, the first year for which the Carter administration will present its own budget and outline its own five-year defense program.

The first year's bite would cost the Army, Navy and Air Force departments about $1 billion to $2 billion each, with a similar curtailment annually for the succeeding four years, Pentagon sources estimate.

Even with such savings, Pentagon officials say, inflation and growth would make the fiscal 1979 defense budget bigger than projected spending of $120.4 billion for fiscal 1978.

The services will try to negotiate for more money for themselves in a long process that will culminate in a fiscal 1979 Carter defense budget reaching Congress next January. Fiscal 1979 will begin Oct. 1, 1978.

But service officials also are considering what steps to take if Brown holds them to less spending than they are planning under the five-year program approved during the Ford administration.

The services may be forced to stretch, or possibly drop, some weapons procurement programs, and perhaps reduce forces.

There were indications the Navy might delay production of its new F18 fighter plane for one or two years. Research and development work on advanced weapons might be pruned.

Some older ships might be retired earlier than scheduled and the money now used to run them could be shifted to improving the readiness of the remaining ships in the fleet. The number of planes in various types of naval air squadrons could be reduced, officials suggest.

The Army could delay mechanizing an additional infantry division, although officials say such a step would retard efforts to strengthen ground forces oriented toward defense of western Europe.

The Army's advanced attack helicopter project, already slowed, could be delayed further.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

A boy babysitter-and proud of it!

DEAR ABBY: The problem is not with me but with some people I know. First, I am a boy.

Why do they think it's "un-masculine" for a boy to babysit?

I'm a senior in high school and I've been babysitting since junior high. I have sat with children as young as four days old and some were ten and eleven years old. I don't say this in a bragging way, but some of the people who have hired me say I'm better than most girl babysitters my age.

I like children, and I really enjoy babysitting. Besides I think it's good practice for fatherhood. (Not to mention the money I'm saving for college.)

I hope this makes your column. A lot of us boy sitters who get teased for doing "sissy" work would appreciate it.

BOY BABYSITTER

DEAR BOY: My hat is off you and to all the other boys who enjoy babysitting and regard it as good training for fatherhood. And what a compliment to be left in charge of parents' most precious possession—their children!

DEAR ABBY: Recently I drove through a small "art-colony" village in Pennsylvania, which is normally frequented by tourists.

I got the shock of my life when I saw about 75 young people all dressed alike in blue denim! I wondered if there had been a prison break, or an invasion of the "Union Army."

What is it with our young people? They have about as much individuality as connected sausage links. They all look alike. Same dress, same jeans, same long straight hair—it's hard to tell one from the other. Go anywhere young people gather, high schools, colleges, social affairs, it's the same story. Why are they afraid to be different?

It wasn't like that 20 years ago. Kids looked and acted like individuals and enjoyed it.

WONDERING WANDERER

DEAR WONDERING: The young people who dress uniformly today do so because they want to identify with each other. There is comfort and security in "belonging" to a gang, group or band. And if it makes them happier, what's the harm?

DEAR ABBY: Please help me! I am pregnant, but I never went all the way. I know that's hard to believe, but it is true, so help me God!

I'm 17, (so is he) and we have gone steady for a year and five months, during which time we did a lot of very heavy petting, but I swear to you that I am a virgin. We came close, but never actually went all the way.

How can I get my parents to believe me? They will think I am lying for sure. Have you ever heard of this ever happening to anyone else?

Please help me. We love each other very much, are graduating in June and plan to be married.

NEEDING HELP

DEAR NEEDING: Yes, I have heard of such cases. It is indeed possible for a girl to become pregnant and remain a virgin. Girls who do everything "but" qualify only as technical virgins, but virgins they are.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, May 12, the 132nd day of 1977. There are 233 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1949, the Soviets announced that the 328-day blockade of land routes to isolated West Berlin had been lifted.

On this date:
In 1774, the Boston Committee of Correspondence proposed that the American Colonies suspend trade with Britain.

In 1820, the English woman who founded modern nursing, Florence Nightingale, was born in Florence, Italy.

In 1932, the body of the kidnaped infant son of Charles and Mrs. Lindbergh was found in a wooded area in Hopewell, N.J.

In 1943, the World War II Battle of North Africa ended with the German surrender of Cape Bon in Tunisia.

In 1965, West Germany and Israel established diplomatic relations.

In 1971, the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art announced it had paid $5.5 million for a painting by the Spanish artist, Velazquez.

Ten years ago: Venezuela announced it had intercepted a landing force of guerrillas led by Cuban army officers. Five years ago: Eighty-three people perished in the collision of a British refrigerator ship and a Liberian tanker off Argentina.

One year ago: Islamic nations convened in Istanbul, Turkey, to discuss the Palestinian and Cypriot problems.

Today's birthdays: Yankee baseball Coach Yogi Berra is 52 years old. Composer Burt Bacharach is 48.

Thought for today: "A man must have a lot of money to enable him to dress as well as his wife does." — Anonymous.

Bluebeard is a legendary character who married, then murdered, one wife after another.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.
FRIDAY, MAY 13

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

You may have an unusual opportunity to advance your interest immediately — one which could have an important bearing on the future as well. Accept.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

Scattered efforts will confuse, lead you off course. You can win big gains if you buckle down to essentials and STAY with them.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

You always enjoy a challenge, and you may face some interesting ones now. Tackle with vigor, but don't undertake ventures you would not usually consider.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Domestic affairs, possibly a personal matter will need some extra attention. Do not, however, neglect daily chores or business needs because of it.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Some unprecedented situations or unusual propositions indicated. Study well, but defer taking action until early next week.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Stars auspicious. Be observing, mindful of future needs. Especially favored: teachers, scholars, all those in the communications fields.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Mixed influences. Question and investigate where there is margin for error. Do not accept suggestions blindly.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Quick decisions may now be required due to suddenly changing situations. Be ready to think and act — but without anxiety.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Seeking an easy solution to a complex problem may only compound the complications. Face up to it, tackle it as you should, and there'll be no sorry aftermath.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

A day in which you could be error-prone, so give careful attention to details — especially in domestic matters.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Stress your perceptiveness. A bit of shrewd observation will enable you to note certain new trends, obtain valuable information.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Look for some unusually pleasant communications from those at a distance; also, new contracts which could prove invaluable in a business way.

YOU BORN TODAY are one of the most versatile individuals in the entire spectrum of the zodiac. Governed by Venus, the planet of love and beauty, you are naturally endowed with the potentials to succeed at almost any of the arts but, in addition, you have a practical side which fits you for many other careers. Thus, if you do not take up painting, sculpture or music, at which you are particularly adept, as a career, you may follow one or the other avocationally. Other fields in which you could succeed: business management, the law, jurisprudence, teaching or horticulture. Traits to curb: obstinacy and jealousy.

Ladies of GAR district meeting

District 3 of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Ohio, met on Saturday at 12:30 p.m. in the Staunton Methodist Fellowship Hall. A beautiful luncheon was served by the hostesses, members of Circle 25, GAR, of Washington C.H. The tables were decorated and centered with yellow tulips and baby's breath. Since the date coincided with the birthday of Circle 25 president Nona Stevens, a beautiful birthday cake with candles, and other gifts were presented to her.

Following the luncheon and birthday ceremonies, all adjourned to the meeting room where the ritualistic meeting took place. New officers were elected and installed for the coming year by National Patriotic Instructor and Ohio Department President, N. Frances Myers, of Mother Garfield Circle, No. 9, of Columbus. The new officers are as follows: District President- Joan Dowd of Circle No. 9; Senior vice president- Hazel M. Voegelin of Circle No. 9; Junior vice president- Elizabeth Deer of Circle No. 25; Treasurer- Mary Frances Snider of Circle 25; Chaplain- Mary Parrett of Circle No. 25; Patriotic instructor- Dorothy Giebelhouse of Circle No. 25;

Historian- Nona Stevens; Conductor- Dorothy Bell of Circle No. 25 and Guard - Ruth Swisher of Circle No. 9. Guests from the Mother McKinley Circle No. 4 of Bridgeport were Mrs. Mildred Conaway- National Council of Administration and Past Department; Miss Nancy Conaway- National Secretary, Past Department President; Mrs. Beatrice Walker- Past Department President; Mrs. Virginia Szeles- Past Department President; and Mrs. Isabella Harding - Past Department President.

Margaret M. Orr, Past National President, who has just returned from spending the winter in Arizona, attended the meeting.

Mrs. Parrett was thanked for the lovely luncheon.

Circle 25 members present were Mrs. Nona Stevens, Mrs. Parrett, Miss Etha Sturgeon, Mrs. Herbert Hoppes, Mrs. Lawrence Black, Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. Russell Giebelhouse, Miss Florence Hidy, Miss Mary Frances Snider, Mrs. Heber Deer, and Mrs. Ralph Hays.

'Welcome Sweet Springtime' theme for CCL spring banquet

Staunton Fellowship Hall was the setting Wednesday, May 11, for the annual spring banquet of the Child Conservation Leagues of Fayette County. "Welcome Sweet Springtime," was the theme for the evening, which was carried out with colorful programs covered with hand-painted violets, and miniature ceramic favors of pitchers and old-fashioned irons, made by students of the Pioneer School, Chillicothe.

Mrs. Glen Davis, Jr., of Beta CCL, was the Toastmistress. Everyone was welcomed, as all were seated at long tables centered with arrangements of pansies in blue, white, lavender and yellow. Green streamers on the white linen cloths accented the room. Mrs. Stanley Graulich gave the Invocation preceding the dinner, prepared by the women of the Staunton United Methodist Church with Mrs. Walter Parrett as chairman.

Entertainment was by the Courthouse Company, composed of Gary Browning, Paula Campbell, Anita Pruitt, Richard Glass and Elaine Stooker, accompanist. They sang "What Would We Do Without Music?" If I Loved You, Trolley Song, and a medley of Of Thee I Sing, Night and Day, It's Only a Paper Moon, Two Hearts Beat as One, Dancing in the Dark, When They Begin the Beguine, Get Happy, and That Old Black Magic.

Introduction of guests were made and the members, followed by the installation of new officers for the seven leagues for 1977-78. Mrs. Stewart A. Leighton of Cincinnati, Southwest District President, was the installing officer. Those installed were:

ALPHA - President- Mrs. Harold Foster; vice president- Mrs. Tracy Hoffman; recording secretary- Mrs. William Clarke; corresponding secretary- Mrs. Marcus Crago; treasurer- Mrs. William Fletcher; assistant treasurer- Mrs. Dwight Morner; and news reporter- Mrs. Homer Chaney.

BETA - President- Mrs. Max Wilson; vice president- Mrs. Ray Turner; recording secretary- Mrs. John Fent; corresponding secretary- Mrs. Kenneth Kelly; and treasurer- Mrs. Ed Moser.

GAMMA - President- Mrs. H.E. Kruger; vice president- Mrs. Eugene Ladrach; recording secretary- Mrs. Virgil Lowe; corresponding secretary- Mrs. Jack Flax; and treasurer- Mrs. Clark Thompson.

DELTA - President- Mrs. Dwight Duff; vice president- Mrs. Will Braun; recording secretary- Mrs. Arthur Schaefer; corresponding secretary- Mrs. John Cook; and treasurer- Mrs. Roger Rapp.

ZETA - President- Mrs. Dick Waters; vice president- Mrs. Larry Elliott; recording secretary- Mrs. Wayne Baird; corresponding secretary- Mrs. Paul Hughes; and treasurer- Mrs. Allan Wilt.

GRADES TO GRAD - President- Mrs. Charles Cline; vice president- Mrs. Ray Bentley; recording secretary- Mrs. George Garringer; corresponding secretary- Mrs. John Bobbitt; and treasurer- Mrs. W.R. Brittingham.

PROGRESSIVE HEIRS - President- Mrs. Steve Huffman; vice president- Mrs. Delmar Mann; recording and corresponding secretary- Mrs. Willard Coil; and treasurer- Mrs. Neal Brady.

CCL pins were presented to the new presidents of the leagues and gifts to the outgoing presidents.

Those present were Mrs. Glen Earl Davis Jr., Mrs. Stewart Leighton, Mrs. Stanley Graulich, Mrs. Martin O'Cull, Mrs. Ray Warner, Mrs. Helen Browning, Mrs. Kelly Doyle, Mrs. Frank Dill, Mrs. Brenda Gustin, Mrs. Hazel Wilt, Mrs. Helen Earley, Mrs. Roberta Bobbitt, Mrs. Margaret Helfrich, Mrs. Glendine Kelly, Mrs. Margaret Crouse, Mrs. Helen Moser, Mrs. Mary Ellen Lininger, Mrs. Juanita Turner, Mrs. Janet Grimm, Mrs. Mary Helen Jones and Mrs. Louise Little, guests, Mrs. Gladys

Soloists named for Concert

For the anniversary concert of Sunday, May 22, Fayette County Choral Society members have widened their repertoire to include a variety of lyrical works by Deems Taylor, Benjamin Britten, Norman Luboff and Hugh Robertson, composer of the well loved "All in the April Evening." There is a medley from "Oliver" and the program will end with a Harry Simeone sing-a-long.

Music director W. Warren Paker has announced soloists for this concert. They are Mrs. Ronald Burke, Mrs. Michael Campbell, Mrs. David Fabb and Miss Anita Pruitt, sopranos; Richard Glass, baritone; and Gary Browning, bass.

At the conclusion of the rehearsal on Monday evening, an election of officers and a social hour to honor all charter members will be featured.

Book review is planned

The Rev. Cloyce Copley will present a book review of "The Nations of Southern Africa," at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 19, in the youth room, Grace United Methodist Church. This will be an interesting study of mission work in foreign countries through church programs.

Members and friends of Grace Church are cordially invited to attend.

Tina Schneider is three years-old

Tina Schneider was honored recently in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Schneider for her third birthday. After opening many nice gifts, Tina cut the clown cake baked by her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Elkins, which was served with punch and ice cream.

Helping Tina celebrate her birthday was her brother, Todd, Mr. Robert Elkins and Mrs. Margaret Elkins, grandparents, Bob Elkins, Mrs. Donna Craig, and sons, Brad and Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Overstake and Tammy Schneider.

Forest Chapter, No. 122, O.E.S., Inspection

Ninety-one members and guests of Forest Chapter No. 122, Order of the Eastern Star, attended the Grand Inspection of officers held in the Bloomingburg Masonic Temple. Mrs. Virginia L. Moats, worthy matron and W. Harold Moats, worthy patron, presided over the ritualistic work. Associate Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio, Mrs. Coralee Holahan of Dayton, served as the inspecting officer for this 77th annual event. Assisting her was the Deputy Grand Matron in District 23, Mrs. Kay Ritenour of Jeffersonville.

The room was festive with beautiful pink blossoms in crystal bowls, while an arrangement of pink roses amid candles with the Holy Bible graced the pedestal in the East.

Honored guests presented other than the inspecting officers were Mrs. Marie L. Hamilton, Past Grand Matron from Circleville; Mrs. Irene E. Thornburg, Past Grand Matron from Washington C.H.; Mrs. Vera L. Thornton, Past Grand Matron from Chillicothe. Four Grand Representatives included Mrs. Ruth Cline, Waverly, representing Colorado in Ohio; Mrs. Sybil Hadley, Sabina, representing Delaware in Ohio; Mrs. Paula Kochersperger, Gettysburg, representing Massachusetts in Ohio and Mrs. Thelma Degler, Miamisburg, representing South Carolina in Ohio. Introduced in a group were 11 visiting worthy matrons and worthy patrons from district 23 and 21. Deputy Grand Matron of District 21, Mrs. Shirley Dunnseith, Leesburg, was an honored guest. William Meadows, Kingston, was recognized as Deputy Grand Master in district 7 of the Grand Lodge of Ohio. Thirteen past matrons and past patrons of the chapter were greeted. District 23 officers introduced included Mrs. Eleanor Six, president, and Mrs. Sue Kern, Kingston, treasurer.

A generous amount was sent to ESTABL (Eastern Star Training Awards for Religious Leaders) from the sunshine fund collected during the evening. Mrs. Addie I. Barger was the candidate for the initiation ceremony along with Miss Arita A. Moats, Kettering, candidate pro-tem.

Officers of the chapter along with the worthy matron and worthy patron include — Mrs. Anne K. Bonzo, associate matron; Harold McConaughy, associate patron; Mrs. Charline Cunningham secretary; Mrs. Zoe Garinger, treasurer; Mrs. Donna Bloomer, conductress; Mrs. Rena Brown, associate conductress; Mrs. Freida King, chaplain; Mr. Ronald Brown, marshal; Bruce VonBargen, organist; Mrs. Anne Dorn, Adah; Mrs. Betsy LeBeau, Ruth; Mrs. Nona McConaughy, Esther; Mrs. Lois Jane Allemang, Martha; Ms. Robin R. Cunningham, Electa; Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, warder; Mr. Rex Bloomer, sentinel; Mrs. Martha Haines and Mrs. Helen Denen, pages.

Brief remarks were made by Mrs. Ritenour, Mrs. Thornburg and Mrs. Hadley. The Associate Grand Matron, Mrs. Holahan, termed the afternoon and evening as a delightful inspection and complimented all officers on their efforts.

A reception followed the ritualistic closing. An abundant assortment of salads and wafers laden the white covered tables in the dining room area. A unique floral centerpiece containing pink shaded mums and carnations in crystal graced the beverage table. Pink tapers in floral circle candelabras also added to the table decorations along with favors for each guest. Mrs. Eunice Slager and Mrs. Ruby Rogers headed the reception committee and were assisted by Mrs. Mary Groff and Mrs. Dorothy Anschutz. Registration was in charge of Mrs. Esther Schlichter and Mrs. Mary Grim.

Guests in attendance were from chapters in Dayton, Jeffersonville, Circleville, Washington C.H., Chillicothe, Kingston, Frankfort, Sinking Springs, New Holland, Knollwood, Mt. Sterling, Leesburg, Waverly, Sabina, Gettysburg, Miamisburg, Adelphi, Williamsport and Bloomingburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Holloway of 803 Van Deman St., were hosts at a layette shower given for Ms. Sandra Short, in their home on Tuesday. Several friends and guests were present.

What's new at the library?

Book nook

By ERIC HALVERSON
Library Director

John D. MacDonald has a legion of fans who eagerly await each volume of his Travis McGee series. Many of the McGee fans however, do not know MacDonald as the master storyteller of over 100 other novels.

"Condominium" (Lippincott 1977) is his latest and it is a smash! We all dream of a place in the Florida sun. High-rolling developer Marty Liss has made millions packaging and merchandising that dream. For the residents of Golden Sands Condominium the dream is fast becoming a nightmare. The monthly assessment for each apartment is nearly double the figure in the prospectus. Standard services have become costly extras. The surly manager has an appetite for women, no taste for work, and an iron-clad contract. The flawless exterior of Golden Sands conceals a tangle of restless marriages and unsatisfied hungers. And all the while the young get fat on the dreams of the old.

As the tension builds among the residents, one of them is examining the way the condos are built. Construction was his business and he doesn't like what he sees. If a hurricane were to strike the key, the jerrybuilt condos would collapse like so many houses of cards.

As "Condominium" races toward its high-velocity climax, the apartment owners organize to take on the money manipulators. But the stage is barely set for the skirmish when Hurricane Ella begins its inexorable movement toward the Gulf Keys.

"Condominium" — super entertainment from MacDonald the master at the Carnegie Public Library.

Jobless claims spurt sharply

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Initial unemployment benefit claims shot up 24.2 per cent during the week ending May 7, while continued claims for those out of work for a week or more dropped 2.5 per cent, the Bureau of Employment Services said Tuesday.

BES administrator Albert G. Giles said 14,452 initial claims were filed last week compared to 11,635 the week before. Initial claims under all other programs numbered 2,690 for an overall initial claim total of 17,142. That represents a 19.3 per cent boost over the previous week's 14,372.

Continued claims filed under the regular Ohio law were estimated at 89,500, a 2.5 per cent decrease from the previous week's 91,801.

Out of work Ohioans filing claims under all programs were estimated at 138,557; 121,415 under continued claims, and 17,142 under initial claims, a 1.2 per cent increase over the 136,980 total for the week ending April 30.

Giles said that 3,430 persons had exhausted their benefits under all programs during the week ending April 30.

Dick Smothers

now wine grower

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Dick Smothers has walked away from the bright lights and applause into the dusty world of irrigation and sugar content as a wine grape grower.

Since July, when Dick and Tom Smothers broke up their famous brother act after more than 17 years, he, his wife, Linda, and their three children have lived quietly on a ranch in the Santa Cruz mountains, where they are cultivating 13 acres for premium white wines.

He expects the first bottling of his wine, under the label Vine Hill Wine, to be done this fall.

Liquor permit opposition eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "As a result of legislation passed last year, local governments have the right to object to permit renewals and to request a hearing to be conducted by" the Department of Liquor Control, department director Clifford E. Reich announced.

"Communities who have problems with nuisance premises and high crime spots can now take action against the bad operators," Reich said.

Since all liquor permits expire Oct. 1, local governments have until Aug. 31 to submit their objections, he said.

WSHS Seniors of the Week

"Work hard during school and become involved with people. Always be yourself and never try to be like the other guy or gal," was Mark Weaver's advice to the underclassmen. Mark is out first featured senior of the week.

He resides at 185 Eastview with his mother, Mrs. Tenora Weaver.

His courses this year are American Government, English Composition, Drama Literature, Science Fiction and Mythology, Independent Survival, Family Living, World Geography, and Accounting.

In his free time, "Weave" as Mark is known around school, likes to play softball, golf, and go bowling. In the future Mark would like to attend Southern State and study social work technology.

Our next featured senior's plans for the future are to work and to have fun. Mike Maddux resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Maddux, 212 E. Paint St.

Mike was on the 1976 Blue Lion varsity football team and was voted second team All-SCOL as a defensive tackle.

When his time isn't taken up with Mythology, World Geography, Family Living, Accounting, Consumer Education, Business Law, and Science Fiction, he likes to ride bikes, go swimming, and play softball.

Jill Schaeper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schaeper of 734 Fairway Drive. Jill has a twin sister, Beth and another sister Tammy.

She has been a cheerleader for five years, treasurer of student council, and she is a member of Senior Y-Teens and

LAURA HAINES

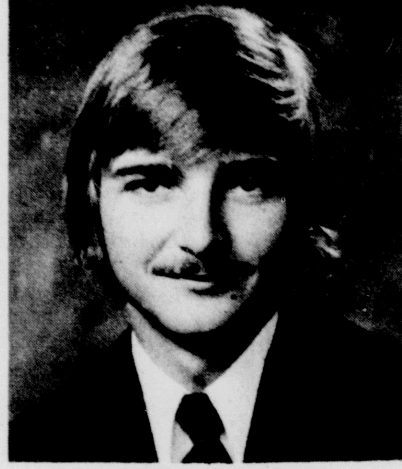

AFS. She is also the president of the National Honor Society, and was honored by representing our student body as homecoming queen this year. Jill has also won the John F. Kennedy Scholarship award.

In the future, she plans to attend Miami University in Oxford.

Another featured senior this week is Laura Haines. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren W. Haines, 618 Columbus Ave. She has a brother and three sisters.

Her courses this year are Shorthand II, Bookkeeping II, Office Practice and C.O.E. After her school work Laura likes to crochet and do embroidery. Bike riding is also listed among her hobbies.

Laura's future plans include getting a job after graduation.

MARK HUNTER

Mark Hunter, our final senior, resides at 507 Elm St. with his parents, James and Stella Hunter.

Mark likes playing the guitar, collecting record albums, going to rock concerts, swimming, playing softball, and bike riding. But, when he's not doing any of those things, you'll find him in Business Law, Consumer Education, Commercial Art, Science Fiction, Mythology, Independent Survival, or Psychology.

Mark is planning to keep his job at Krogers after graduation, and maybe advance into something later. But right now, he's just going to take it easy and enjoy this summer.

WSHS students tour state capital

By SUE STAPLETON

If the saying, "Seeing is believing", is true, then the Senior Government classes experienced it in a fascinating circumstance.

The students had the opportunity to visit the Ohio state capitol in Columbus last week. Two bus loads of students also ventured to see the Ohio Supreme Court, the House of Representatives, the Senate, and the Governor's office.

The exciting thing was that they were able to see our state government in action. They saw the Ohio Supreme Court hear cases, and this let them see the difference between the local level and the state level of our judicial system.

They were also able to view the House of Representatives and Senate in session. This was quite an experience for the students. The majority of them were astonished by the way the meetings were run, because the method differs greatly than how politics are excitingly portrayed in the movies.

Our district's representative, Robert McEwen, served as their guide most of the day. They were even fortunate to hear him speak on the house floor about a solar energy bill. The students were introduced to our district's senator, John Mahoney, and Ohio's Lt. Governor, Richard Celeste.

All in all the day was a success and the students found out our government is something to believe in.

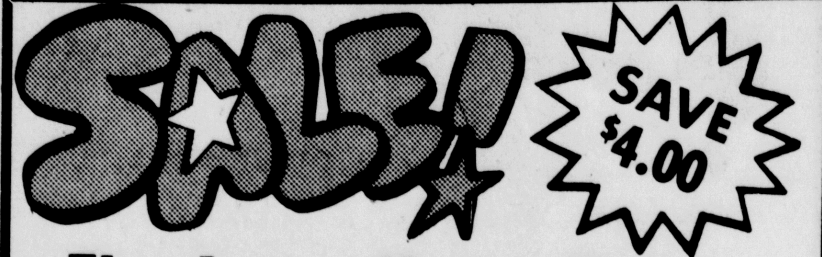

The Seychelles Islands, colonized by France in the 1700s and owned by Great Britain until recently, have a population of 60,000 people, mostly descendants of liberated African slaves, Indians and Chinese.

One of the highlights was having the privilege of seeing the Governor's cabinet room. Fred Mill, the Governor's assistant told them about the executive branch in state government, and then there was a period of 23 minutes for questions to Mill and McEwen. The question and answer session was very informal and proved to be beneficial.

Solon still far from goal post

Political end run pushes bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — End runs in politics—just as in football—are risky, and not always effective.

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, used one to make a first down with a pet bill, but he's still a long way from the goal post.

The 48-year-old Lucas County attorney dug through the House rule book until he found a way to get his school district income tax out of the hopeless confines of the Ways and Means Committee.

There, it had been bottled up for months by Chairman George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, who looks upon the Toledoan's bill as he might the bubonic plague.

Both Democrats, Tablack and Wilkowski are two of the most colorful members of the House, both with low boiling points and each with a flare for being outspoken.

But there apparently is no bitterness in their current dispute.

Wilkowski's bill was introduced at the request of Toledo school officials. It would permit school districts to submit income tax proposals to voters, as an alternative to or in conjunction with real estate levies, to try to boost sagging education revenues.

The Toledo officials requested the bill in the wake of voter rejection of a series of real estate levies. They had to shut down their schools several days late last year when a levy failed and the district ran out of money.

Tablack insists, among other things, that if voters reject real estate levies, they would do the same to an income tax. He also says Ohioans don't even want to hear about the prospect for a "fourth" income tax. They already pay state, federal, and in most cases a city tax, he points out.

Wilkowski says embattled school officials deserve a chance to try the option. He thinks taxpayers might go along, especially if an income tax would replace a portion of their present property tax. It also would broaden the base of school revenues, by bringing nonowners of property into the picture.

Late last month, Wilkowski found a House rule that enabled him to have a friendly subcommittee quietly take the provisions of his bill and insert them into another measure.

Now, what used to be a bill "to require legislative economic impact evaluations" has become a bill to permit school income taxes. It is pending before the House Economic Affairs and Federal Relations Committee—not ways and means. Hearings are being held on the measure this week in the new committee.

The 46-year-old Tablack smiled when he learned about the maneuver, crediting Wilkowski with having "ingenuity." But he insisted "the bill is dead." He predicted it never will get out of the powerful rules committee, which assigns bills to floor votes, if it gets that far.

Bill awaiting floor vote

Bingo law loophole battled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Laws which authorized charitable bingo in Ohio created a loophole that spawned Las Vegas-type gambling in the Akron area, a House member says.

Rep. Cliff Skeen, D-43 Akron, described to a committee what has been happening in his hometown, and showed a coupon worth $5 at a crap table, saying such coupons were widely circulated.

Skeen said a bill, now recommended for passage by the House Governmental Affairs Committee and awaiting a floor vote, will close the loophole. At least, the Summit County lawmaker said he has assurances from the attorney general that it will.

Under an existing section of law (2915.02), tax exempt organizations operating games for charity are excluded from Ohio's longtime ban against gambling for profit—bookmaking, promoting bookmaking, and operating schemes and games of chance, including gambling "devices."

Skeen said those running crap games, roulette, slot machines, and other such devices have been able to ply their trade under another section of law that authorizes licenses for games of chance at "festivals."

The way they do it, he explained, is to find a tax exempt organization to act as a "front" to obtain a festival license. He said "front" licenses in Akron have been obtained by about two dozen tax-exempt organizations from outside the Akron area, mostly churches from the Central Ohio area which get a share of the take.

Police are powerless to act, because of the loophole, Skeen said.

Under the bill—which also makes some other changes in bingo laws—festival licenses would be restricted to games conducted by the licensee on his premises, or in a building leased from a governmental unit.

Festival licenses, left intact by the bill, are good for no more than four consecutive days, and may be obtained no more than two times a year.

As though the loophole were not enough to perplex lawmakers, they have other problems brought on by the constitutional amendment that authorized charitable bingo a few years back. "Charitable" organizations continue to grow in number, it seems, especially in big cities.

Every session, the legislature receives requests from more and more self-described charitable organizations wanting to be included, some of which come close to defying the imagination. In the pending bill, the House committee turned down requests on behalf of arts councils, community action groups, and those supplying facilities for youth athletic activities (sponsors of youth athletic teams already may sponsor bingo).

However, the bill awaiting House floor action does expand the list to include ethnic veterans' groups such as the Italian American War Veterans, if they are part of a national organization founded at least 20 years ago.

Vance meets Juan Carlos

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance met with King Juan Carlos and other top Spanish leaders today to encourage their efforts to democratize Spain and bring the country into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The meeting at the king's Zarzuela Palace, once an 18th-century theater for light opera, is Vance's first with the Spanish monarch, who came to the throne 18 months ago after the death of dictator Francisco Franco.

Since then, the government has scheduled the first free national election in 40 years next month, legalized anti-government political parties including the Communist party and released hundreds of political prisoners.

Fire destroys wooden barn

A wooden barn on Staunton-Jasper Road was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday.

Virgil Jones, 757 Staunton-Jasper Road, reported the blaze which destroyed nearly 150 bales of straw and hay. Bicycles and a motorcycle, which were stored in the barn, were removed by the owner during the fire. The barn was owned by James Evans, 738 Staunton-Jasper Road.

The Concord-Greene Township Fire Department fought the blaze, and no cause was determined.

The Washington C.H. Fire Department extinguished a grass fire in a ditch along Prairie Road Wednesday afternoon. The owner of the land, O.A. Pigg, 3127 Prairie Road, was reportedly attempting to burn off the ditch, but the fire was causing a hazard for motorists along the roadway.

Washington C.H. firemen were also dispatched to the intersection of John and Elm streets Wednesday evening to extinguish an automobile fire. However, the vehicle was not at the scene when firemen arrived.

Waste disposal program pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Mahoning County lawmaker wants to establish a statewide waste disposal program to guarantee proper collection, hauling and disposal of garbage, particularly hazardous wastes.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, introduced legislation

Wednesday to "ensure that solid and hazardous wastes are properly disposed of, without endangering the financial viability of the waste management industry."

The bill would require the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency to establish regulatory guidelines.

Ohio Perspective

Realtor buying state's mansion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If all goes according to plan, Sam Powers will buy a house next week and the state will be rid of a white elephant.

In this case, it is the old governor's mansion, which Powers thought he had lost to a higher bidder at a state auction April 11.

Ohio tried at least twice previously to sell the house, multi-car "carriage house," servants quarters and 2.2 acres of land at 1234 East Broad St. The first attempt brought no serious bidders. Another sale bill never got out of the legislature.

Legislation authorizing the final sale called for title transfer within 30 days of the auction.

No closing date has been set and Powers, a Columbus business realtor, says he is waiting for the state to set the day.

The state real estate office has asked State Auditor Tom Ferguson to prepare the deed to sell the 73-year-old, 31-room mansion to Powers for $224,000.

That was his last offer during spirited bidding with The Rev. Nathan H. Beavers Jr., of Springfield, who offered $225,000.

But the minister made the required 10 per cent deposit with a personal check which the attorney general's office said did not meet legislative requirements. That called for a down payment in cash, certified check or bank draft.

Powers made his deposit with a certified check for $22,500. It was the start of what may be an expenditure of up to $750,000 before he can realize any return on his investment.

"That would be the absolute ceiling," he said of the purchase and renovation costs.

Starting with a new roof and exterior repairs to the neo-Georgian brick and stone exterior, Powers estimates it will cost up to $400,000 to update the building. It has been vacant except for a care-taker since 1970.

"We'll put in new heating and plumbing, fix some flooring and generally update the entire interior," Powers said.

He plans to lease the building for business offices.

One possibility is a single tenant for the entire building.

Powers said it would be good for the area to lease the first floor as a restaurant and the second floor for offices.

Right now he has no firm commitments from anyone for the space.

Former Lt. Gov. John W. Brown was the last of ten Ohio chief executives to occupy the house.

Lehigh University schedules WCH native for May 29 rites

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — The Rev. John W. Vannorsdall, Yale University chaplain and pastor of the Church of Christ at Yale University, will speak at the Lehigh University baccalaureate service, Sunday, May 29, at 10:15 a.m. in Packer Memorial Church.

The service will be followed by a brief mass for Lehigh University's Roman Catholic students and their parents. The mass is scheduled to begin at 11:15 a.m.

The Rev. Hubert L. Flesher, Lehigh University chaplain, will conduct the baccalaureate service, and will be joined by the Rev. Robert G. Cofenas, chaplain to Catholic students at the university, who will conduct the late morning mass.

Music will be performed by the Concord Chamber Singers of the Lehigh Valley. They will be accompanied on the organ by Prof. Robert Cutler, chairman of Lehigh University's department of music.

The Rev. Mr. Vannorsdall, a native of Washington C.H., is a former Gettysburg College chaplain who served as a lecturer at the Yale Divinity School, and pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church in New Haven, Conn., prior to assuming his current position in 1976.

Earlier he was Lutheran campus pastor at Cornell University.

The Rev. Mr. Vannorsdall attended Capital University prior to earning a degree in history at Harvard University.

His theological training was at Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, Pa., where he received his Master of Divinity Degree. He also attended the University of Pennsylvania as a special student in American Intellectual History.

He pursued postgraduate studies in social ethics at Harvard University and the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge (Mass.) and was an assistant in the University Lutheran Church. He also served as pastor of St. Paul's and St. John's Lutheran churches in New York, and has lectured and preached at many leading institutions and conferences including Union Theological Seminary where he was a visiting scholar in 1973.

Ohio Bell to distribute new phone books Friday

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. will distribute more than 12,100 copies of the 1977 Washington C.H. telephone directories here between May 13 and May 19.

A small, personal directory also will be delivered this along with the regular books, according to Norita Craycraft, Ohio Bell Telephone Co. customer services manager in Washington C.H.

"We hope these personal directories will be a convenience for our customers to jot down new and long distance numbers," she said.

New in the book this year is a full page covering the details of directory assistance charging.

The new system, which charges heavy users for more of the costs of providing directory assistance service, was started last August.

"Since then, it has saved about 55 cents a month for more than 90 per cent of our customers who use the service only occasionally," Miss Craycraft pointed out.

The cover of the new book features hundreds of hand-painted figurines surrounding three dimensional letters spelling out "Hello," America's favorite telephone greeting.

The Call Guide pages, at the front of the book, have been expanded. Included are 10 consumer tips aimed at helping telephone users save time and money when using their phones.

Up-to-date long distance rates for several Ohio and out-of-state cities are listed in an easy to understand format.

Farm Bureau schedules health testing program for members

The Fayette County Farm Bureau announced today the availability of a unique medical service in Fayette County.

Farm Bureau President Wayne King confirmed that the organization will sponsor a totally new and unique program of health testing. The testing unit will begin operation May 16. Members will be tested by appointment.

King indicated that the mobile health van is brought to Fayette County under the sponsorship of the Fayette County Farm Bureau through the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation as a result of a successful pilot program conducted last fall in six Ohio counties. "We are pleased to be able to make this health testing program available to our members and we encourage each one to give serious consideration to taking advantage of this new service," he continued.

Joyce Hidy, chairman of the women's committee of the Fayette County Farm Bureau, said that the group would be handling the appointment operation. She encouraged all interested Farm Bureau members to call if they had questions or wanted to schedule an appointment.

A spokesman for American Health Profiles, Inc., who provides the testing services described the testing, the mobile unit and the procedure. The large medical van is equipped with the latest in bio-medical testing equipment capable of performing a comprehensive medical check-up in forty-five minutes. A total of 22 tests are given which yield over 110 medical criteria. A team of five paramedical technicians provide the testing services. Tests include chest x-ray, maxille-facial x-ray, electrocardiogram (EKG), lung function test, hearing test, several eye tests, including a test for glaucoma, blood chemistry and hematology, urinalysis, tuberculosis skin test and others.

Once the data is compiled, it is sent to a "profile center" where it is reviewed by a team of eight physicians, each a specialist in his field. After it is reviewed the entire "profile" is sent the participant's personal physician. At the same time, the participant is contacted and if an abnormality has been detected, he is advised to consult with his doctor concerning the findings.

"The Farm Bureau has been helping our members for years. We feel the health of the member and his family is just as important as the other services we provide," said King. "The program is convenient, comprehensive and inexpensive — only $65 for adults and $40 for children ages 5 to 15," he continued.

Explaining the importance of preventative medicine and early detection, the American Health Profiles, Inc. spokesman said, "Many of the people who participate in the program have some abnormality of which they are unaware. It may not be a serious problem now and in most cases a simple program worked out with their family physician can keep it under control. The important thing is to be aware of a potentially serious health problem and consult with a physician," he added.

Rhoads master councilor

DeMolay chapter seats new officers

Fayette Chapter, Order of DeMolay of Washington C.H., recently held its semi-annual installation of officers, with John W. Rhoads installed as master councilor for the next term.

The installation was headed by Jim McGee, of Lancaster, state DeMolay senior deacon. He was assisted by Ed Bows, state DeMolay junior councilor; Chris Hoelscher, past fourth district officer; Walt Wielkiewicz, twelfth district officer; Brad Briggs, past master councilor Fairfield Chapter; and Dave Wilson, state DeMolay R.D. club chaplain.

Others installed were Ronnie Vance, senior councilor; Clint Kellis, junior councilor; Craig Maddux, senior deacon; Mike Cleary, junior deacon; John Shepard, senior steward; Ben Echard, junior steward; John Heironimus, orator; Mike Provost, scribe; Steve Baugh, treasurer; Don Heironimus, sentinel; Paul Lockman, chaplain; Stanley Burnett, marshal; J.T. Perrill IV, standard bearer, Jean Winiger, almoner; Galen Bock, first preceptor; Greg Bullock, second preceptor; Gary David, third preceptor; Mark Rea, fourth preceptor; Rick Roberts, fifth preceptor; Jerry Brickles, sixth preceptor; Steve Six, seventh preceptor.

During the installation ceremonies, Jim McGee delivered the "Ceremony of Light" and Mike Provost presented the "Tribute to Motherhood", during which each mother received a red carnation. The installing officer then installed the chapter advisory council and the Mothers Club officers.

Serving as receptionists were Vikki Bock and Robin Brakeall, members of the local chapter of Job's Daughters. Honored Queen, Becky Ragland of the local chapter was a distinguished guest. Also present were Fayette Chapter Sweetheart Julie Shepard and Far Hills Chapter Sweetheart Cheryl Graham.

A reception was held after the ceremonies in the Masonic Temple dining room, with refreshments served by Mrs. John E. Rhoads, mother of the newly installed master councilor, assisted by Mrs. Billie Wilson, Pamela Rhoads, Sandra Rhoads, Vikki Bock, and Robin Brakeall.

Fayette Chapter, Order of DeMolay, is sponsored by the Washington C.H. Shrine Club. Serving as chapter advisors are David C. Six, John E. Rhoads, Everett Vance, David Baughn, Robert Provost, Dale Haines, Richard Sefton, Harvey Heironimus, and James T. Perrill III. Mothers Club officers are Joan Rhoads, president; Ruth Provost, vice-president; Ruth Kellis, secretary; Sue Maddux, treasurer; JoAnn Brickles, chaplain; and Martha Haines, cards and flowers.

Summer boating safety stressed

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Safety should be uppermost in the minds of eager Ohio boaters preparing for another summer season on the water, says the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR).

ODNR's Division of Watercraft urges all boaters to inspect their boats, trailers, rigging and lifesaving equipment before putting the boat in the water.

"Checking out your boat before putting it in the water could save time, money and lives," said Norv Hall, division chief.

Boat motors should be tuned, gasoline tanks cleaned and seams of boats recaulked if the caulking is cracked, Hall said. Also, fiberglass on hulls worn thin or damaged should be patched.

Power boats with engine and gasoline compartments should have the vents and blower systems checked. Vents and intakes should be cleared of any rodents or birds that may have nested there over the winter, and the blowers (if any) should be working normally.

Before starting, compartments of power boats should be checked for gas fumes, Hall said. This includes the bilge area where gas leaking from the engine compartment could accumulate.

During fueling all equipment should be turned off. The boat should air out for five minutes before starting to allow gas fumes to escape. Cabin hatches should be open. "The boater should check for a gasoline odor in all compartment," Hall said.

In order to eliminate the possibility of explosion caused by static electricity make sure the gas nozzle is grounded (constant contact) to the filling unit of the fuel tank.

Sailboaters should carefully check the rigging and lines of their craft as they are essential to its safe operation.

Mildew is a danger to all boaters. Life vests and lines, sails and cloth could rot if not stored properly during the winter. Wire and steel rigging should be checked for signs of rust or deterioration.

All boats as well as outboard motors, including electric ones, must be registered with the Division of Watercraft.

Care and maintenance of boat trailers is important. Too often, this vital piece of equipment is taken for granted. All moving parts should be checked and lubricated. Wheel bearings should be repacked, and pressure in the tires, including the spare, should be checked. Tangled and worn line on winches should be replaced.

Boaters should take time to learn Ohio laws and regulations concerning boating. All boats must have a Coast Guard-approved life jacket accessible to each occupant (remember, ski belts are out). There also must be a device, such as a ring buoy, that can be thrown to someone in trouble, in all boats over 16 feet.

Life jackets must be of proper size to assure a safe fit for the wearer.

Children under 10 are required to have life jackets on at all times on boats less than 18-feet long. Those who find themselves in the water without a preserver should remember to grab anything that floats, except sharks.

Canoe and kayak enthusiasts should be especially careful this spring because of high water, swift currents and low water temperatures. Scout streams in advance of a trip and never boat alone.

Before taking a trip boaters should be aware of their capabilities on the water. Know how far you can swim with clothes on, and evaluate your ability to handle the stream.

Hypothermia, brought on by sub-normal body temperatures caused by cold, is a problem for boaters. In the spring when the air is warm, the sun inviting and the temperature is in the high 70s, it's easy to forget the water could be in the low 50s.

When boating in cold water a life vest and warm clothing are essential for survival. The more body movement needed to stay afloat the less the survival time in the water, because excess movement causes more heat loss, Hall said.

Information on boating and boating safety, is available without charge from Publications Center, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Fountain Square Columbus 43224.

Bethel in Clermont County was the home of Thomas Morris, a United States senator in the 1830s who opposed John C. Calhoun's and Henry Clay's proslavery utterances. He was one of the first officials to come out in the open against slavery and his stand cost him his political career.—AP

Data entry operator typists to be trained by local firm

Steele Data Processing, Inc., which operates a facility in Washington C.H. will be holding classes to train data entry operator typists.

The classes will be conducted at the firm's local facility at 236 E. Court St. Interviews will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. May 14 and from 5 to 8 p.m. from May 23 through May 27 at the Court Street office.

The classes will be held from 4 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. five days per week for three weeks. Sixteen persons are needed.

James Steele, 442 East St., said at the end of the third week or 120 hours of training, the typists will be employed if they meet company standards. The typists will work on a second shift.

The Steele Data Processing firm moved from Washington C.H. to 4480 Refugee Road in Columbus last September.

However, Steele said because of an increase in the volume of business, the local facility re-established operations on a small scale two months ago. The local operation is being staffed with a 15-member skeleton force.

Over the past 10 years, the Steele Data Processing firm has trained over 500 persons as data entry operators. DISTRIBUTOR NAMED

U.S. shunning Taiwan ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, anxious to preserve its fragile relationship with the People's Republic of China, has refused for the past two years to accept the appointment of a new ambassador from Taiwan, according to administration sources.

The officials say U.S. acceptance of a new ambassador could be interpreted in Peking as a sign that the United States is deferring fulfillment of its goal of normalizing relations with the mainland.

For the same reason, the Carter administration has decided not to replace career diplomat Leonard Unger, U.S. ambassador in Taipei since 1974, officials said.

Ambassadorial changes, normally routine business, are complicated in the case of Taiwan, given the commitment of the past three administrations to end government-to-government relations with the island and establish full diplomatic ties with Peking.

Taiwan has been represented here since 1971 by Ambassador James Shen, who assumed his duties two months before former President Richard M. Nixon announced his new China policy. Nixon's moves broke more than two decades of U.S. hostility toward the Peking regime.

U.S. security and diplomatic links with Taiwan have been the main obstacles blocking normalized relations with Peking. A succession of U.S. administrations has been unable to find a formula for ending the links in a way that is politically acceptable.

Public opinion polls indicate strong U.S. opposition to normalized ties with China if such a move jeopardizes Taiwan's security.

Space women pass 9-day bed stay

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Ten women who went to bed for the country's space program say they're ready for the launching pad, but they won't go back to the mattresses.

"I don't want to lay in bed in a windowless room," said Mary Gerbino, a housewife from San Jose. "I want to do the real thing."

Mrs. Gerbino, at 44 the oldest participant, was one of 10 volunteers who spent 24 days undergoing rigid testing to determine how women in the 35-45 age bracket might withstand life on the Space Shuttle.

The heart of the testing was a nine-day stay in bed, preceded and followed by tests to measure how they were affected by the rest — designed to simulate weightlessness.

"We found nothing adverse to indicate women in this age group could not work in a space environment," said project director Harold Sandler. "This was the best and most cooperative group we have tested to date."

The testing was conducted at the NASA Ames Research Center. It ended Tuesday.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT

AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Preceded by a televised news conference in which President Carter discusses his first official trip overseas, Richard M. Nixon tonight discusses foreign affairs when he was president.

It's the second of Nixon's four scheduled taped interview programs with British TV personality David Frost, who paid him a reported $600,000 plus a percentage of the profits for the exclusive interviews.

Tonight's show almost caused officials at 137 network affiliates an agonizing choice — take the live network "feed" of Carter's news session or pass it for the national feed of the Nixon-Frost show.

Carter originally scheduled his news conference for 7:30 p.m. EDT tonight, which happens to be the same time the Nixon-Frost show is being transmitted to 155 stations on a special network hookup.

Fifteen of the stations are independents, three are public TV outlets and the rest are affiliated with CBS, NBC or ABC, which were to televise Carter's conference.

According to Robert Wold, head of the firm transmitting the Nixon shows from KTTV here, most stations can receive only one network feed at a time unless they're willing to pay for a second hookup.

"And that can be quite expensive," he added.

But stations signed for Nixon's show were spared the cost of a second hookup or a decision between a taped Nixon and a live Carter when the President rescheduled his news conference for 2:30 p.m. EDT today.

The change came Tuesday after Frost called the White House and mentioned his show was on at the same time Carter was to be on TV. However, both the White House and a Frost aide say Frost didn't ask the President to change the time of the news conference.

The next scheduled Nixon-Frost shows still are set for May 19 and 25, says Marvin Minoff, executive vice president of Frost's Paradine Productions.

Frost last week said he'll put together a fifth program — which will include Nixon's response to the big question, why he didn't destroy the White House Watergate tapes that proved his undoing.

Minoff, in an interview this week, said no national air date is set for the fifth show, which will be an hour in length.

The women were unanimous in saying they were happy to have taken part and would do it again. Tests also included physical exercises, constant lab testing and rides in a centrifuge.

"The hardest thing to do in bed was trying to shave my legs," said Carol Pruitt, 37, a vocational nurse from nearby Dublin. "You're not left with any modesty after something like this."

"After being monitored night and day for so long, I think some of the feminine mystique is gone forever," added Marion Hayes, a freelance writer from Alameda.

The women stayed two or three to a room, sleeping and eating in hospital type beds. They had about six to seven hours to themselves each day during bed rest and were free to read, watch television or talk among themselves.

Bedrest is used to simulate weightlessness because tests get similar results on both those who have taken space flights and those who have spent long terms in bed.

PUBLIC SALE BY SEALED BID

Statue of limitations.

One thing Americans didn't need back in 1776 was a statue of King George III.

What they did need was ammunition.

So on the evening of July 9, 1776, a crowd gathered and toppled the four-thousand-pound statue.

Then, adding insult to injury, they melted it down to manufacture exactly 42,088 bullets.

That was one way Americans took care of their country's needs.

Today, over 9½ million Americans take care of their country's needs, and their own, by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Whether bought through the Payroll Savings Plan, or regularly where you save, Bonds add up fast to take care of all your needs. Education, retirement, travel, whatever.

So buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

There's no limit to what you can save.

Take stock in America.
200 years at the same location.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

High court decides in airline's favor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Supreme Court has decided that if you are bumped from an airline flight even though your reservation is confirmed all you are entitled to is a night's lodging.

Justin S. Kalish of Columbus held a confirmed ticket and had turned his baggage over to Trans World Airlines in preparing to board an Oct. 19, 1973 flight from Philadelphia to Columbus. While standing in line to board the plane he learned all the seats on the plane were filled.

Kalish boarded the plane nevertheless and refused seven requests to leave. Police were called and he was handcuffed and jailed.

Kalish filed a suit in Franklin County Common Pleas Court charging the airline with humiliating him, overbooking, false arrest and false imprisonment. For those alleged actions he was seeking punitive damages.

At the trial, TWA offered no defense of the charges but won on each count, with the exception of being ordered to pay Kalish $32 for his overnight stay in Philadelphia.

Kalish took the case to the 10th District Court of Appeals and again lost. In asking the Supreme Court to reverse his earlier losses, Kalish added a new charge including federal statute violations.

The Supreme Court rejected his contention because, it said, the federal statute argument should first have been settled in the lower courts.

In other action Wednesday, the court:

— Ruled that the state Department of Education may assign a school district to a joint vocational district and then design the contract covering the services provided the district by the vocational system.

The state board in August 1974 assigned Hamilton Local School District to the Eastland Vocation Center. Eastland sued in Franklin County Common Pleas Court over the assignment but lost. Eastland then took the case to the appellate court and won a reversal of the assignment.

The state board then appealed to the Supreme Court and won a reversal of the appellate court action and a confirmation of its power to assign school districts to the vocational districts.

Kurfess Comments

By Charles F. Kurfess, Ohio House Minority Leader

Despite some legislative action in recent years, much remains to be done to reform our method of financing political campaigns.

The most commonly discussed approach is to expand the federal income tax checkoff for the presidential campaign fund. It is now being suggested that we should provide a checkoff on our state income tax, so taxpayers could indicate whether they want $1 of their income tax designated for a governor's campaign fund or a political party. Then these monies so designated would be divided between the candidates or parties.

This proposal does recognize the increasing costs of political campaigns and seeks to reduce the dependence of candidates on political contributions from special interest groups.

I would prefer, however, that we place financing of political campaigns in the hands of individual citizens, not in the hands of government itself. I have proposed a direct tax credit against each Ohioan's state income tax obligation for modest contributions to political candidates or political parties.

It would provide for a maximum credit of $10 on an individual tax return and $20 on a joint return. And this is not a deduction from taxable income, but a direct credit against the tax owed. So if a couple made $20 of contributions to parties and candidates, they could credit that $20 against their income tax obligation and pay the state $20 less than the actual tax owed.

This is an alternative approach to public financing of campaigns. It would be taking money that would have gone into the state treasury and placing it in the political process. But there are two basic differences.

In our proposal, citizens would decide whether they wanted to participate, and secondly, they would choose to which party or candidate their diverted tax money would go.

In fact, we suggest limiting the source of all political contributions to individual citizens. No longer would special interest groups make modest collections from their members and end up with thousands of dollars to distribute to "friendly candidates."

This would result in a greater awareness on the part of the citizen-contributor, because the citizen would be deciding to which candidates he or she will contribute. It should be the contributor himself who decides if he wants his contribution to go to a candidate in a close election in hopes of affecting the result, or if he is interested in supporting a candidate who is relatively assured of re-election, just to show support, or maybe in hopes of "buying influence."

The Ohio General Assembly passed legislation in 1974 which was labeled as election reform. We said then that passing a less-than-effective bill would diminish the prospects of real campaign finance reform in the near future, because we would kid ourselves into thinking we have reformed the process. The truth of the matter is, there remains much to be done, and I'm not sure I currently see strong impetus for campaign finance reform in your state legislature.

Today women constitute more than 40 per cent of the U.S. labor force, yet only 4.7 per cent of the nation's lawyers and only 3.4 per cent of the judges in the State Court system are women, according to the Community Survey on the Status of Women done by the Population Institute.

CIVIL SUITS FILED

A registered trotting horse is the subject of a civil suit filed by John F. Joseph of Sabina in Fayette County Common Pleas Court. Joseph's suit alleges that Dora M. Mastin, 522 Brown St., owed him $11,339.20 in feed and training bills for the horse. The suit points out that Betty J. Joseph, 326 E. Market St., may claim some interest in the horse. He wants the court to determine that interest and to order the horse sold for the payment of the debt owed by Mastin.

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Washington C.H. has filed suit in Fayette County Common Pleas Court against Charles E. and Joanne C. Forsythe, 1434 Ohio 41-S. The suit claims that the Forsythes have failed to meet the conditions of a $21,790 promissory note. The suit is asking for the part of the note that has not been paid plus nine per cent interest.

Firm also appoints new cashier

Wallace to end 31-year banking career

J. William Wallace, executive vice president of the BancOhio-First National Bank in Washington C.H., will retire from the post June 30 following a 31-year banking career.

The announcement concerning Wallace's retirement was made during the regular monthly board of directors meeting.

Wallace, 707 Bloomingburg-New Holland Road, has served as executive vice president at the First National Bank since 1969.

A native of northern Ohio, he joined the First National Bank after serving four years with the U.S. Army Air Force during World War II. He joined the bank as a teller and was promoted to assistant cashier in 1950. He was named to a cashier's position in 1959, and vice president and cashier in 1967.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C.H. and the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce. He has also been active in Fayette County Heart Association work and various youth groups over the years.

He is a graduate of Iowa State University and the Alpha Tau fraternity.

Wallace and his wife, Marie, have three daughters, Mrs. Margaret Cross, Bellsville, Ill., Mrs. Carol Hixon, of Greenfield, and Kathy, who is currently attending college.

Wallace said he has not yet made definite plans on how he will spend his retirement.

Glenn R. Hemsworth, president of the BancOhio-First National Bank, also announced that Clinton E. Johnson, 1335 Washington Ave., has been elected to the position of cashier.

Johnson served in various positions with the Hocking Valley National Bank in Lancaster, Ohio, and the Ellis Banking Corporation in Newport Richey, Fla., prior to his employment at the First National Bank.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Ohio University, Athens. He has attended the Ohio School of Banking, Kennedy-Sinclair Trust School, Jerry Wilson Marketing School, Florida Real Estate School and various American Institute of Banking courses.

He and his wife, Patricia, are the parents of a two-year-old daughter, Brooke.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

I want to respond to the letter to editor regarding Senate Bill 125 and which was signed by Elmer Reed, Charlene Cunningham and Mary Jean Jennings, Republican members of the Fayette County Board of Elections.

The intent of S.B. 125 is the expansion of Ohio's Election Law to provide the opportunity for more people to vote. It is as pure and simple as that! To cloud the issue with inferences of fraud and increased costs of the actual election is both unfair and unprofessional, and borders on being insidiously deceitful.

Let me explain my position.

Of the nine states which have enacted similar legislation, there has not been one case of actual fraud.

Historically, fraud and cheating at the polls are usually the result of the poll workers and not the voter. People are basically good and honest! They want to participate. Why would they vote unfairly and risk such severe financial penalties and years in jail? Would you believe that Representative Netzley, Republican from Miami County, during the House Committee hearings actually said that "... people cannot be trusted to vote."

The authors of Monday's letter have also inferred that the increased costs incurred by the Board of Elections to accommodate an increased voter turnout is something bad! Since when do we measure this important, and Constitutionally guaranteed right in terms of dollars and cents?

The Republican members' letter also failed to note that the "nuts and bolts" operation of post-card registration, door to door registration, and permanent registration has a proven track record of efficient administration and appropriate checks. The use of non-forwardable post cards to check registrants and the method of purging voter lists was conveniently ignored; as an example. Any board of election officials, where the system is operational, can (and has) testify to this.

I contend that Senate Bill 125 is a progressive step in encouraging more voter participation by eliminating contrived barriers that exclude certain people from voting; not a backward step as the authors of the letter contend. These people are "parroting" the propaganda put out by our Republican Secretary of State Ted Brown. They are in defense of a poor position and are compounding the felony by distortion (and omission) of facts.

In actuality, what S.B. 125 will do is enable approximately 1,500,000 additional Ohioans to vote. The Republican Party does not want to see this as usually increased voter turnout tends to favor the Democratic candidates. These 1.5 million are among those excluded from politics, generally are rather emotional, and never really make up their minds to vote until the last few days before the election when they are bombarded with all the heavy political advertisements.

I can understand the mass paranoia that has infiltrated the Republican Party in Ohio. They have consistently refused to expand their political base to include the poor, the working class, the young, the minorities, and the oppressed. S.B. 125 will help open the door to these groups to exercise their right.

Another astounding quote by Representative Netzley during the House Committee hearing "... why do we need all these extra voters?" I think this is indicative of the hysteria beginning to build among the Republican Party.

Registration is not meant to deter fraud; it is meant to insure an orderly and efficient election process. If this new law cost a bit to reach more voters, so what? That's what Boards of Elections are charged by statute to do. The numbers of voters increases dramatically whenever, and wherever, we reduce the oppression of 30-45 deadline on vote registration.

To oppose any effort that encourages increased voter turnout is questionable, at the least, and smacks of a pompous and pious disregard for the worth and dignity and honesty of individual citizens.

I truly feel sorry for the unfortunate intent of your letter Mr. Reed and Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Jennings and only hope that you broaden your interpretation of what our election process is about. You might start by reading about U.S. Representative John Rhodes' support of such legislation as S.B. 125. He is a staunch Republican from Arizona.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

For those of you who missed the Teen Talent Show last Friday, May 6, I want to relay to you that you missed an extraordinary display of creative and musical ability, put on by our young people. It was a delightful evening. All who participated are to be congratulated.

Some special tribute must be given to the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club who initiated this fine exposure of teenage talent, and who have nurtured it for ten consecutive years. The program was again well organized and well received. Congratulations, Kiwanians.

Couple married in funeral parlor

DETROIT (AP) — Thomas Blake and Brenda Cobb tried to get married in a church. But no minister was available, so they went to a funeral parlor and found one.

The Rev. J.H. Williams said he would be happy to come to the nearby Stinson Funeral Home to unite Blake, 24, and Miss Cobb, 21. Two funeral workers were their witnesses.

Anna Stinson, wife of the funeral home owner, said she was pleased by the impromptu ceremony Tuesday.

"You get to see lots of unhappiness in funeral homes. This was a happy occasion for a change." She said it was the first marriage to be performed at the parlor.

The owners gave the newlyweds a gift certificate for a color portrait.

The wood-boring beetle has been known to live as long as 37 years.

WHY IS THIS MAN SMILING? — You would be happy too if your team was in first place in the South Central Ohio League. This is Miami Trace baseball coach Mike Henry surveying his team's chances for the title. They are nestled in the top spot when many critics picked the Panthers as also-rans this year.

Panthers preserve top spot with 8-5 win over McClain

GREENFIELD, Ohio — Although the Miami Trace baseball fans didn't have much to cheer about as far as the sectional tournament was concerned, they still have plenty to yell about as league play continues.

Last night, the Panthers traveled to Greenfield and came back home with their SCOL lead intact and an 8-5 win over the Tigers.

Shawn Riley recorded his sixth win of the season in as many decisions, even though he needed help from Stu Foster in the seventh.

Riley went six innings, yielding five runs on seven hits while striking out two and walking one.

Foster recorded the save and scattered one hit and got one strikeout.

Jay Beatty was the losing pitcher for McClain. He pitched five and two-thirds innings, giving up all eight Panther runs on nine hits. He struck out four and walked two.

Bret Robinson finished the game for the Tigers, allowing just two hits.

Trace jumped out to their usual lead in the first inning with a pair of runs. Shane Riley reached on an error and Joe Black, who went 4-for-4 on the day, singled him to third.

After Black swiped second base, third baseman Mark Tubbs whacked a two-run single to give Miami Trace the early lead.

McClain got to Riley for three runs in the third to take the lead, 3-2. But, the Panthers tied it in the fourth and took the lead back at 4-3 in the fifth.

Trace won it the sixth with four runs that chased Beatty to the showers. Shawn Riley singled and John Bakenhester pinch ran for him and promptly stole second base.

After a walk to Sam Grooms, Rex Coe reached on an error that scored Bakenhester. Shane Riley stepped to the plate and delivered the big blow, a two-run double that scored both Grooms and Coe. Black put the icing on the inning with a single that scored Riley.

The Panthers next game will probably be a doubleheader with East

Clinton on Saturday.

Braves lose anyway to Pittsburgh

Turner in dugout, Bristol in limbo

Ted Turner is in the dugout and Dave Bristol is in limbo.

Turner, the flamboyant 38-year-old yachtsman and broadcasting executive who owns the Atlanta Braves, decided he needed a close-up look at what was wrong with his team, which had lost 16 games in a row. So Wednesday he told Bristol, his manager, to take a 10-day vacation, and donned the manager's cap himself.

There was no noticeable effect — the Braves lost No. 17, 2-1 to Pittsburgh. "It seemed like I had done all I could, sitting up in the stands," explained Turner, who doesn't have a baseball background and is leaving all strategy matters to coaches Vern Benson and Chris Cannizzaro. "I wanted to see what it's like down in the trenches."

From those trenches he got an eyeful of Dave Parker, the slugging Pirates outfielder who is tearing up the National League. Parker had two hits, including his sixth home run of the season in the third inning which snapped a 1-1 tie.

Parker now has hit safely in 22 consecutive games and is batting .437 — both major league highs. And the Pirates have won 11 in a row, the longest streak in the majors.

Dodgers 5, Expos 1

The Dodgers scored all their runs in the seventh inning. Bill Russell stroked a two-run single, Steve Garvey and Manny Mota drew bases-loaded walks and Dusty Baker drove in the final run with an infield single.

Cubs 8, Astros 2

J.R. Richard pitched a five-hitter for his first victory since April 12 for the Astros. He also drove in a run as Houston scored five times in the third inning in snapping the Cubs' six-game winning streak.

Little League box scores

In the second night of Washington-C.H.-Union Township Little League, two more games involving minor league teams were played.

In the first game, the Junior Firemen outslugged Craigs for a 16-14 win while the Loafers jumped on Landmark in the nightcap, 19-3.

Court House cashes in on sixth inning

Lions beat Hillsboro for tournament win

HILLSBORO, Ohio — The Washington C.H. Blue Lion baseball team, under rookie coach Paul Ondrus, captured the sectional tournament crown that eluded them last season.

With one inning left last year, the Lions blew a lead and lost the sectional final. But, this season, Court House overcame a 6-3 deficit after three innings to beat Hillsboro, 8-6 for the title.

Mark Heiny got the win in relief of Dee Hart Foster. Foster lasted just one-third of an inning, allowing five runs although only one was earned.

Heiny came on in the first and pitched four and two-thirds innings, scattering seven hits and just one run.

Jeff Elliott, winner of the game on Tuesday, finished the last two innings and recorded the save. Elliott allowed no hits and struck out two.

Jeff Webster was on the mound for Hillsboro and he took the loss. He went the distance, giving up eight runs on eight hits while striking out five and walking seven.

The Blue Lions got a comfortable lead in the top of the first with three quick runs. Leadoff man Mark Burke walked to open the game, took second on a passed ball, went to third on a sacrifice fly and scored on a balk.

Later, Scott Johnson singled and Elliott ripped a two-run homer to make the score a fast 3-0.

But, Hillsboro came right back as they jumped on Foster for five runs and took a 5-3 lead after the first inning.

Hillsboro added a single run in the third to make the score 6-3 until Washington scored again in the fourth. Jeff DeWeese walked and took third when Tom Dean singled. Then, Kevin Bonecutter doubled in DeWeese to make the score 6-4.

The Lions won the game with a big sixth inning, scoring four runs. Bret Shaw started things off with a single to right-center. Burke walked and Jeff Estep delivered a double that chased Shaw to the plate.

A sacrifice from Johnson scored Burke from third and DeWeese drew a walk. DeWeese attempted to steal second and the catcher's throw wound up in center field, sending Estep to the plate and DeWeese to third. Elliott singled DeWeese in for his third RBI of the day to give Washington the 8-6 lead.

Elliott then mopped up in the last two innings to preserve the sectional win.

The Lions will now travel to Athens for district play next Tuesday. Their game will be at 10:30 a.m. at Athens and the opponent has yet to be determined.

JOHNSON RBI SWING — Scott Johnson, first baseman for Washington C.H., meets the ball and sends it to the outfield. Johnson went 1-for-2 in last night's win over Hillsboro and scored one run and drove in another.

Cincy beats St. Louis, 5-1

Sparky still not pleased with Reds

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It might have been reasonable to expect euphoria among the Cincinnati Reds following their second successive triumph.

The Reds downed the St. Louis Cardinals by 5-1 with 12 hits Wednesday night, but bliss was not a part of Manager Sparky Anderson's mind.

"We're not getting any mileage out of our hits," complained Anderson, who was as intent for the moment on finding fault as any efficiency expert. "We're getting a lot of hits, but we're not getting the runs."

Anderson's pique, the victory and key hits by Pete Rose and Johnny Bench notwithstanding, stemmed from two Cincinnati threats that fizzled during an unsuccessful bid to break open the game.

A bases-loaded opportunity was wasted in the fourth inning when Ken Griffey, following Bench's pivotal ground-rule double, bounced into a double play after two runs were scored.

An inning later, after Joe Morgan singled and raced to third on George Foster's hit, the Reds again came up bare-handed when Bench duplicated Griffey's misdeed.

Anderson, while overlooking the occasions when Cincinnati did deliver to meet with his satisfaction, lashed out angrily by noting that "if you're a major leaguer you've got a job to do and that's get the runner in."

"Every time you've got a runner on third base with less than two out — I don't care what anybody else says — you have got to score," he said. "We are just going up there swinging wildly instead of getting a ball to hit," Anderson charged. "That's been our biggest problem more than anything. You look at a guy hitting .340. That doesn't mean anything unless he's doing something to score runs."

The multiplicity of Reds sins having been enumerated, those innocent were pitchers Jack Billingham, 4-2, and Mike Caldwell, who combined to minimize 11 St. Louis hits.

Billingham was pinned into a bases-loaded jam in the seventh, but Caldwell extricated his teammate by inducing pinch-hitter Mike Anderson to hit into a twin killing en route to his first save.

MT thinclads crush Plains

Running all sophomores and freshmen, with few exceptions, the Miami Trace track team still blew Madison Plains away with a 106-21 win.

Trace coach Bill Beatty elected to go with just his underclassmen to give them experience.

The Panthers won every event except the shot put and allowed Plains just one place in the five field events.

The Panthers will run again Saturday in their sectional meet.

MEET RESULTS

Reserves lose to MP, 9-3

The Miami Trace reserves took it on the chin last night, absorbing a 9-3 loss at the hands of Madison Plains.

Benny Allen was the losing pitcher. He gave up 10 hits while striking out seven and walking nine.

John Ruggels went the distance and was the winning pitcher.

Seven runs in the first two innings killed Trace's chances in the game.

Mike Eddlemon was the top hitter for the Panthers with a single and triple in four trips to the plate.

The Panthers next game will be Saturday at Wilmington for an afternoon doubleheader.

If you are thinking about painting the outside of your house, here are some things to remember:

Don't start unless you are willing to spend a lot of time in the preparation of the surface.
This means removing loose dirt and dust; scraping and wire brushing blistered, peeled and scaled areas; priming any bare spots; countersinking all nails, priming with a metal primer and covering with putty; replacing any loose caulking, especially around doors, windows, utility inlets and exhaust pipes;
getting rid of mildew; washing off excessive chalk; and dulling all high-gloss areas.

Begin painting the side of the house that is shaded at the moment. If possible, follow the sun around so that you are painting where the sun has already been.
This will prevent the sun from drying out the paint too quickly, not to mention the fact that it's a lot more comfortable to paint in the shade.

While professionals sometimes paint across a house completely at each level, it is better for most persons to start painting at an upper corner of a house and work downward.

The ladder then can be moved a few feet at a time as necessary. Paint only the portion you can reach comfortably without stretching. The ladder should be placed against the house so that the distance from its base to the height of the ladder; thus, if you are using a 16-foot ladder, its base should be 4 feet from the house.

When painting, work in toward the wet area, always stroking or rolling on a dry section first and moving over to the paint that has just been applied.

You can prevent the most common problems with exterior painting — blistering and peeling — by reducing the amount of moisture in the house with the use of wall vents, an exhaust fan or a dehumidifier, by caulking any outside openings and being sure gutters and downspouts aren't clogged and backing up water behind the walls.

You can eliminate or cut down on mildew and wood rot by trimming shrubbery that is too close to the house or, better yet, moving it to a new location. That's why mildew and rot usually occur toward the bottom of the exterior; that's where shrubbery prevents sun from getting to the wood, hinders the movement of air and keeps everything damp.

Remember that, when you have a house painted professionally, the larger part of the expense is for labor. Thus, when you do the job yourself and save a few hundred dollars on labor, don't try to save an extra few dollars by buying inferior paint.

Two coats of paint are better than one, but one usually is sufficient if the paint already on the house is in good condition.
No paint will remain in place if the coat under it begins to blister and peel.

For three-year terms

Five named to Chamber board

Five persons were elected from a 15-candidate field to serve three-year terms on the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors Wednesday.

New directors elected by the Chamber membership were Lester Bower, of the Fayette County Bank in Washington C.H., Willis Geyer Jr., of the Clark, Schaefer, Hackett and Co. firm, William Mathison, of Cor Tec, Inc., David Morrow, of the Morrow-Huffman Funeral Home in Washington C.H., and Wiley V. Witherspoon, of the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division plant.

The new directors will assume their positions July 1 and will serve until June 30, 1980.

George A. Malek, executive vice president of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce, said that about 400 ballots were mailed to Chamber members to participate in the election and that 50 per cent of the ballots were returned.

Other candidates were Neil Arthur, William Cupp, Romaine Hughes, Rachel Marti, Andre Metais, William Pool, James Purcell, Ernie Wilson, James C. Wright and Stephen Yambor.

The five new directors will replace George Arnold, Armco Steel Corp., Donald Bailey, Conchemco, Inc., Glenn Hemsworth, First National Bank, Larry Lehman, Downtown Drug Co., and Ron Warner, Huntington Bank.

Hemsworth, currently serving as Chamber president, will continue to serve on the board as immediate past president.

Other members of the board of directors are Don Kirk, John Lachat, Edwin Nestor, Gene Sagar, Rick Stinson, Bill Autrey, Jim Polk, Harold Thompson, Dale Willis and Hugh Wilson.

The board will hold its annual reorganization meeting Thursday, June 9.

Lachat, currently the first vice president, is expected to be elevated to the presidency, and Polk, now second vice president, is expected to assume the first vice president's position. A new treasurer will be elected.

Also scheduled to retire from the board are James Ward, immediate past president; and Ora Burdge, and Shirley Fenter, both one-year appointees. Geyer and Mathison are presently serving as one-year appointees.

Mileage rollback bill pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill requested by Atty. Gen. William J. Brown to crack down on auto dealers and others who roll back automobile odometers is near final passage in the legislature.

The House added its approval to the Senate measure 96-0 Wednesday, but it now must return to the upper chamber for consideration of Senate amendments.

Rep. James Baumann, D-32 Columbus, the House sponsor, told his colleagues that the roll-back problem is acute in Ohio, and cited statistics showing that one of every three used cars sold in the state has been tampered. The bill imposes heavy fraud penalties and strengthens the attorney general's investigative powers.

In other business, the House voted 64-33 to establish an Ohio Commission on Spanish Speaking Affairs and two satellite agencies to help Ohio's Spanish speaking population in areas such as housing, employment and education.

It went to the Senate over Republican objections that the bill creates too much bureaucracy and singles out a group representing one per cent of Ohio's population for special treatment.

The House did accept one of several GOP amendments which sought to limit the "bureaucracy" they said was created in the legislation. The one successful amendment provides that the three new agencies will be abolished after four years unless renewed by the legislature.

In other business, the House Elections Committee called for more opposition testimony today on a controversial election day registration bill. It is rapidly become the hottest issue of the year, with minority Republicans already threatening an effort to repeal it on a statewide ballot if it passes in the legislature.

John M. McElroy, former top assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes, said he would charge in committee testimony today that the bill was "designed and calculated to destroy the Republican party in Ohio as an effective political force."

He said the legislature's vetoproof Democratic majority probably is right in assuming that additional voters who might come to the polls, under the bill's provisions, would vote Democratic. This would be true, at least at the outset, he said, and would "seriously damage" his party, which now holds only two of the six statewide offices and only three of seven spots on the Ohio Supreme Court. The GOP lost control of the House in 1972 and the Senate in 1974.

The House Government Affairs Committee started hearing testimony Wednesday night on a Senate-approved bill which would have Ohio's governor and lieutenant governor run as a team, starting in the 1978 elections.

Some House members, including Rep. Kenneth A. Rocco, D-7 Cleveland, served notice they will try to change the Senate version so that the governor and lieutenant governor candidates would team up and run together in the primary, as well as in the general election.

Senators required, when the bill left that chamber, that the two candidates would have to be nominated in their own right in the primary, then team up for the November election.

ERA praises Ohio coal plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George R. Alexander Jr., regional director of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, could have used the bicycle he pedals around his Chicago home at the Ohio Statehouse Wednesday.

The busy bureaucrat spent most of the day shuttling back and forth between Gov. James A. Rhodes' office and the Senate Finance Committee hearing room.

He had an encouraging word for the governor, who is attempting to find a way to burn Ohio coal and stay within federal air standards.

But Alexander warned the finance panel that Ohio could lose $3 million, half of its federal funding for the environment, if a proposed state budget is approved in its present form.

Alexander is no stranger to controversy in Ohio. It is the only state that has not yet adopted air quality standards acceptable to the U.S. EPA.

On Wednesday he told Rhodes the new fluidized bed concept for clean-burning coal "looks like a very encouraging thing."

The governor wants to install four or five fluidized industrial boilers to test the method of lifting sulfur dioxide pollutants from coal while it is burning, thereby cleansing smoke that filters through stacks.

Rhodes also wants to buy some time from Alexander, who has set a Dec. 31, 1979 deadline for compliance with federal air standards.

If the concept is successful and other plants commit to it, Alexander told the governor "there might be a method of addressing that time."

Rhodes set a Friday meeting with Babcock and Wilcox of England, a producer of fluidized beds, to discuss possible installations.

"He (Alexander) has to be flexible because (President) Carter's hitting coal," Rhodes said following the meeting with Alexander and representatives of coal producers and industry.

In testifying before the Senate Finance Committee, Alexander said the budget approved by the House last week "seriously jeopardizes the receipt of the $3 million in federal air funds because it proposes to reduce the level of state support to the local air agencies."

He said that would force local governments to increase their share of the cost or "face the loss of the entire federal share."

The proposed 1977-79 budget, as presently constructed, trims about $2.5 million from the spending level for Ohio EPA requested by Rhodes. The bill still contains a modest increase over current spending.

Alexander, who is based in Chicago, said all state programs must be increased or at least maintained to attract federal dollars.

"In addition," he said, "U.S. EPA is prohibited from making any grants in which federal funds would supplant state funds. Federal funds are intended to supplement state efforts, not to supplant them."

NATO plans beefed-up defenses

LONDON (AP) — The NATO allies have adopted President Carter's proposal to put their defense ministers to work on plans for strengthening forces in Europe to meet the Soviet Union's new offensive strength.

The 15-member North Atlantic Treaty Organization, wrapping up a two-day meeting Wednesday, announced the defense chiefs will meet next week in Brussels, Belgium, for a three-day strategy session.

The allies also accepted Carter's invitation to a summit meeting in Washington next May to chart NATO's defense for the 1980s in the face of "the growth in strength of offensive capabilities of the armed forces of the Warsaw Pact countries."

In his speech to the alliance Tuesday, Carter warned Soviet forces today "are much stronger than needed for any defense purpose." He promised U.S. efforts to revitalize the alliance and called on the allies to join in the task.

The Brussels meeting, opening Monday at NATO headquarters, will bring together representatives of all the alliance members except France.

Although the French remain members of the alliance, their military forces are not part of the NATO command structure headed by U.S. Gen. Alexander Haig.

Mild weather has returned to Ohio. High pressure centered over Indiana has been nearly stationary for the past 30 hours and shows little sign of moving away. Highs this afternoon were expected to be in the 70s over much of the state. Only along the shores of Lake Erie were highs to be cooler as winds off the lake held readings to the 60s.

Extended outlook for Ohio, Saturday through Monday: fair and mild. Highs in the 70s and low 80s and lows in the upper 40s and 50s.

Education head to receive degree

ADA, Ohio (AP) — Won Sul Lee, secretary general of the International Association of University Presidents, will be awarded an honorary doctor of literature degree from Ohio Northern University during commencement exercises May 22.

Dr. Lee, a native of Korea, graduated from Ohio Northern in 1957 with a bachelor of arts degree in political science. He received his masters in international relations in 1958 from Case Western Reserve and earned a doctorate in history there in 1961.
